U.S. Rejects Soviet Plan To Limit Jap Treaty To Big Four

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has rejected firmly a Soviet demand that the job of drawing up a peace treaty for Japan be left to the big four Pacific powers—the United States, Britain, China and Russia.

The American position was disclosed in a note made public today by the State Department. It was delivered to Semen K. Maslennikov, Russian charge d'affaires, by Charles E. Bohlen, departmental counselor, two days ago.

In the note, the United States maintained that the treaty should be drafted by an 11-power conference. This would include Canada and other allied countries which took part in the war against Japan.

And it made plain that this country will proceed with that treaty even if Russia refuses to attend.

However, it expressed hope that the Soviet Union would participate in the Japanese peace treaty conference to be held "in the near future."

Rock Drilling Operations In Harbor To Start Monday

Rock drilling operations in Victoria's Inner Harbor are expected to begin Monday—the first step in deepening and removing boulders and rocks from the basin—it was learned today following the arrival this morning of a rock drill scow from Vancouver. Dredging of the harbor will follow.

George Jones, chief engineer of the rock drill plant, said on arriving here that as soon as steel parts were received from Vancouver, drilling operations would start in the harbor. This equipment will probably be received by Monday.

Otherwise the rock drill—one of the most modern on the west coast—was ready for use, he said.

Jones, a veteran dredgerman and driller who worked on Ripple Rock, said there would be no difficulty in breaking up the rocks in the harbor because of the comparatively calm water and small tides.

The driller would operate 24 hours a day, he said, by three five-man shifts.

The drill scow is 80 feet long by 28 feet wide. It has a 72-foot tower which is equipped with a hammer weighing over four tons. The drill operates somewhat like an air-rock driller, and bores deep holes in

Fighting Spreads As New Regimes Take Over India

(From C.P., A.P. Dispatches)

The vast sub-continent of India, though still tormented by bloody communal conflicts, split itself in two today and jubilantly joined the world family of politically-independent countries as two new and separate dominions—Pakistan and Hindu India.

In New Delhi, Earl Mountbatten, the last Viceroy of British India, who turned over the reins of authority to the Indians at the last stroke of midnight, was sworn in as the first Governor-General of Hindu India, populated by most of India's 227,000,000 Hindus.

In Karachi, Mohammed Ali Jinnah, the spare, monocled leader to whom the new Moslem dominion chiefly owes its existence, was sworn in as Governor-General of Pakistan, populated by most of India's 70,000,000 Moslems.

But in the Punjab, the great northern province to be split between Pakistan and India, flames of communal strife still raged. Moslems and non-Moslems—mostly Sikhs and Hindus—fought to the death. Whole sections of the walled capital city of Lahore were ablaze.

Unofficial counts fixed the death toll there since Wednesday morning at 153 and the number of injured at 136.

Fifty persons died today in communal clashes in Lahore on the first day of freedom for the two new dominions of India and Pakistan. Troops opened fire in the affected localities.

NEHRU SWORN IN

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, Hindu leader who was sworn in today as first prime minister of Hindu India, and Dr. Rajendra Prasad, president of the constituent assembly, were rudely manhandled by unruly celebrating mobs earlier as they went to notify Lord Mountbatten that the assembly had endorsed him as Governor-General. They were not injured.

Even Mohandas K. Gandhi, considered almost a saint by his followers, encountered hostility and threats of violence in Calcutta. A gang of youths who resented his preachings of non-violence hurled stones at his house, but he was uninjured and faced them down when he emerged.

Lord Mountbatten, addressing the Hindu constituent assembly after being sworn in, paid high tribute to Gandhi as India's "architect of freedom, and to Nehru as a world-renowned leader of courage and vision."

TO EXCHANGE COMMISSIONERS

In Ottawa Prime Minister King announced the governments of Canada and the new Indian dominion of Pakistan have agreed to exchange high commissioners when this was administratively possible.

"As a preliminary step in this direction," said Mr. King "it is expected that trade commissions will be established in each country in the near future."

Mr. King made the announcement in disclosing that he had telegraphed the good wishes of the government and people of Canada to the prime ministers of India and Pakistan on the occasion of the establishment of those two countries as self-governing nations of the British Commonwealth.

MARKED BY SIMPLICITY

The transition of India, brightest jewel of British possession for two centuries, to independent status, was marked in Britain by simplicity.

The King was in Scotland for a quiet summer holiday with his family as his Empire and his title of Emperor of India slipped away. He sent a message of congratulation to the men who rule the new dominions of Pakistan and India.

The thin British newspapers filled their feature pages with recollections of British adventure and effort and endeavor on the great sub-continent.

Across their front pages they put banner headlines over the dramatic story of independence, illustrating it with maps showing Hindu India, Moslem Pakistan and the fabled lands of the Indian princes.

The London Daily Mail, which years carried on its front page masthead the slogan "For King and Empire," today appeared with the slogan "For King and Commonwealth."

Editorially it observed that creation of the new dominions "has given the lie to those on the other side of the Atlantic and elsewhere who proclaimed us oppressors."

The Daily Herald, organ of the Labor Party, hailed the transfer of Indian rule to Indians as "an event which future generations will unquestionably regard as one of the most significant in modern history."

Polio Death Toll Totals 15 As 498 Canadians Stricken

(From C.P. Dispatches)

Only one province—Prince Edward Island—was completely free of infantile paralysis today as the disease toll mounted steadily in Canada, striking hardest at Ontario and the four western provinces.

A Canadian Press survey counted 498 persons stricken with the disease across the Dominion and all but 37 were distributed in the area west of Quebec.

There were 15 deaths by polio reported across the Dominion so far this year. Three each were reported in British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Alberta and Ontario; two in Manitoba and one in Nova Scotia. There were no deaths reported in Quebec, New Brunswick or Prince Edward Island.

Notable was the fact that the Maritimes and Quebec, where poliomyelitis reached epidemic proportions last year, were comparatively free of the mysterious disease.

Not one case has been reported this year in Prince Edward Island, hardest hit of all provinces in 1946. No new cases have occurred in either Nova Scotia or New Brunswick since Monday. There 16 and 10 cases have been reported respectively. The Montreal district has had 11 cases, but no deaths.

From Alberta Thursday came a report of a third death there this year from polio, a 21-year-old girl, 48 miles northeast of Calgary. The province has 14 cases.

It was in the other four provinces that polio took its heaviest toll.

Six new cases this week brought the Ontario total for the year to 87, about 15 less than at the same date last year. Two of the cases were in Hamilton with others in Toronto, Kingston, Temiskaming and Markham.

Hardest-hit in the Dominion, Manitoba took steps to fight the disease by establishing a special government committee to advise on precautions against it. The total there stood at 158 with 97 in the greater Winnipeg district.

B.C. TOTAL 151

Four new cases in Vancouver—bringing the total for the city to 96—and one at Chilliwack, raised the British Columbia total to 131 cases.

Precautions were also being taken in Saskatchewan as the province reported seven new cases in 24 hours bringing the total to 71. In Regina a special clinic was opened for polio treatment, similar to one opened sometime ago in Saskatoon.

In Toronto today plans were announced for a research program on the disease financed by Canadian life insurance companies in co-operation with the Toronto Hospital for Sick Children.

J. K. Macdonald, chairman of the health committee of the Canadian Life Insurance Officers' Association, said the Toronto research plan is designed to provide a better understanding of how the disease is contracted and spread.

"There is no disguising the fact that polio of epidemic proportions may break out at any time and medical science and health officers are puzzled as to where it comes from and how it spreads," he added. "There is no known centre of infection."

65 Cent Butter, 75 Cent Eggs May Be Winter Prices

TORONTO (CP)—Officials of Toronto wholesale firms today predicted increased prices for butter and eggs because of increased butter consumption and a seasonal drop in egg production.

Butter was said likely to rise from its present local price of 57 cents to 65 cents a pound while eggs were expected to increase to 75 cents a dozen, an increase of nearly 15 cents.

On butter, an official of one large retail concern here said that "there is no doubt that sales have gone up even if people say they are using less." Hotels and restaurants are cutting larger slices—People are not satisfied with the silver they got in rationing days."

Undersea Pits Near Whitehaven Scene Of Blast

WHITEHAVEN, England (AP)—A tremendous explosion in a coal mine under the Irish Sea near here tonight was believed to have killed 118 miners in what appeared to be Britain's worst mining disaster in years.

Although rescue workers descended the shafts immediately, more than an hour after the explosion no word had been received from them.

The pit is Britain's oldest undersea mine, sunk more than 120 years ago. Its workings extend under the Solway Firth.

Three years ago 10 men were killed and several injured when an explosion occurred in the most productive working, subsequently sealed off. New workings were developed nearer the shaft.

Russians, Slavs May Break Relations With Greece

ATHENS (AP)—Some diplomatic and political observers said today it appeared likely that both the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia wished to break off diplomatic relations with Greece.

The Soviet Union awaited a reply from the Greek government to a sharp protest that Russian aides were being molested by Greek authorities. It was disclosed also that the Yugoslav charge d'affaires had gone to Belgrade for consultations, leaving only one person in Yugoslav legation here.

Yugoslavia has been represented by a charge d'affaires since her minister, Dr. Isidore Cancar, left unexpectedly last fall.

One authority here said all this appeared to him to be part of a "war of nerves" aimed at creating chaos in Greece, possibly with a view to setting up a separatist Communist government in the north.

The Greek Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Panayotis Pipinellis, received the protest of the Soviet Union from Chargé d'affaires Nicholas Tchernichev Aug. 6. Three days later Pipinellis issued a formal denial. The following day he met the Soviet charge d'affaires and discussed with him the Russian charges of discrimination against Soviet embassy employees and spying on members of the Russian diplomatic corps.

A broadcast from Moscow Thursday night charged that Greek authorities had been "arresting and even subjecting to torture persons employed by the Soviet embassy," and added that such actions "were incompatible with the maintenance of diplomatic relations between Greece and the Soviet Union."

The Yugoslav charge d'affaires, Serif Schovich, left by plane Wednesday.

Hagana Reports 'Execution' Of Arabs In Holy Land Reprisals

TEL AVIV, Palestine (AP)—Eleven Arabs were killed today in a bomb and gun attack on their shanty six miles from Tel Aviv. Hagana, the Jewish underground defence organization, announced it had "executed" seven of these in reprisal for brigandage.

A Hagana communiqué said the dynamited house was headquarters "for the brigandage that has been responsible for recent attacks on Jewish settlements." The toll of dead and wounded mounted steadily in the bloody racial clashes between Jews and Arabs in the area of all-Jewish Tel Aviv and its neighbor city, all-Arab Jaffa.

Two more Arabs were found stabbed to death in the Sheikh Murad quarter of Jaffa, and another found dead near Ramat Gan in the Tel Aviv area.

The bullet-riddled bodies of four of the Arabs slain in the attack on the shanty were found sprawled in the yard. Two of them were Egyptian Arabs, one was from Hejaz, Saudi Arabia, and one was a Palestinian.

Seven other bodies were recovered from the debris by authorities.

The new killings brought the toll of dead since Sunday to at least 28—17 Arabs and 11 Jews. Forty Arabs and 17 Jews have been wounded seriously and about 50 Arabs and Jews have been hurt.

Property damage in the strife-ridden sectors of Tel Aviv and Jaffa has been estimated by some sources at more than $2,000,000.

Dr. Morley Beckett Quits Post At Jubilee For Big Job In U.S.

Dr. Morley Beckett, superintendent of Jubilee Hospital, has resigned to take up a post with the Veterans' Administration of the United States government; it was announced by the board of directors, following a special meeting Thursday evening.

Dr. Beckett will become inspector-general of the North Pacific Coast region and Alaska, covering the territory in Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Washington and Alaska.

Departing from its practice in the past, the board has named Charles Morrison, hospital secretary, as lay administrator of the hospital. Mr. Morrison has been on the hospital staff since August, 1924, and was made secretary in 1942.

The medical end of the administration will be handled by a medical director. Dr. R. G. D. McNelly, director of the pathology department at the hospital, has been named temporary medical cal director. He has been on the staff two years.

The hospital board paid high tribute to the work done by Dr. Beckett as head of the hospital since he came to the city last March, and accepted his resignation with extreme regret.

8 Former Prisoners Of Japanese In Suicide Pact Coroner Told

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Six of an eight-man "suicide battalion" of former prisoners of the Japanese have died by their own hand, newspaper writer Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., told reporters Thursday. He said he did not know names of the dead or of the two surviving members of the group. Sixth to die was Vanderbilt's secretary, Melvin C. Roberts, 27, and formerly a staff sergeant in the Canadian army, whose death a coroner's jury Wednesday decided was "self-destruction," but resulted from effects of "his harrowing experience in a Japanese internment camp." Roberts took an overdose of sleeping pills, the jury said, but his death "should be considered an honorable war casualty."

Vanderbilt testified before the jury that Roberts had told him the eight, at the time they were prisoners, had vowed to end their lives by suicide if they did not find happiness in the postwar world.

"I believe they were sort of a suicide battalion," Vanderbilt added.

Roberts died Aug. 9. It was Aug. 9, 1945, that the group was liberated, Vanderbilt said; and it was on Aug. 9, 1946, he said, that the first of them died.

Vanderbilt said Roberts, captured at Hongkong, had been taking sleeping tablets regularly to alleviate "horrible dreams."

Communist Radio Found In Quebec

QUEBEC (CP)—The provincial government will continue to be alert against Communist activity in Quebec province, Premier Duplessis said Thursday night after revealing provincial police have discovered a clandestine, Communist-operated radio transmitter in the northern Abitibi region.

Without elaboration, Mr. Duplessis said at a press conference that on his return from holidays this week he "received a report from the Quebec provincial police advising me that they had discovered a clandestine radio transmitter belonging to a Communist organization, devoted to Communist propaganda."

"This discovery is rather surprising when we know that Tim Buck and other Canadian Communist leaders benefited from the CBS's free broadcast time to spread their ideas. Not satisfied with this, they bring their audacity to the point of setting up clandestine stations."

At Lord's Corner a thermometer registered 96 degrees and at Devil's Den, as might be expected, it was a degree hotter.

Thistle Pest Looms Again

Large clumps of Canada thistles are ready to scatter their seeds. This growth is one of many near the Johnson Street bridge on the Victoria West side.

With the fluff, containing millions of seeds, just about ready to fly, Victoria can expect an increasing crop of thistles next year unless stringent control measures are taken.

W. H. Warren, parks superintendent, and G. M. Irwin, city engineer, are not unduly worried over the prospects of a plague of the prickly weeds, as they believe they can be controlled fairly easily.

Reports have been coming in that the crop this year on roadsides and vacant lots, not only in the city but in Esquimalt and Saanich, is heavier than it has been for some time. The huge clump pictured above was just one of many on the Victoria West side of the Johnson Street bridge.

Use of the wonder weed-killer 2-4-D will eradicate the noxious plants, as will another weed-killer, Atlatide, Mr. Warren said. These are only effective if used in the early days of the plant's growth, however.

The city engineer's department this year employed two power mowers to cut weeds, including the thistles, on roadsides, together with a man and a scythe to get those missed by the mower. One of the mowers is city-owned, Mr. Irwin reported; the other hired to try and keep ahead of the weed growth.

PENALTY FOR NEGLECT

Under city ordinance, people allowing thistles to grow on their own property are subject to penalty and if the growth is reported, Mr. Irwin said, he warns the offenders. Should they not comply with the regulations, he may send city employees to cut the weeds and bill the property owner.

The city budgeted $3,500 this year for the cutting of weeds. Mr. Irwin said his department had tried using chemical weed-killers on occasions, but relied more on cutting to keep them under control. No chemicals were used this year.

3 Dead, 2 Injured By Mine Explosion At West Frankfort

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill. (AP)—Three men were killed and two others slightly injured Thursday night in a mine explosion which brought hundreds of people to the shaft, fearing it was a third major disaster in southern Illinois within five months.

For more than two hours, a crowd of about 2,000 milled around the property of Orient Mine No. 2 in the belief that many of the night crew of about 100 men had been killed or trapped.

Not until about midnight when many workers came to the surface, unaware of the blast, was the worst of the shock and two-hour suspense dispelled.

The dead, members of a drilling crew, were Charles Clark, Walter Clements, Jr., and George Filkins, all of West Frankfort. The injured, treated at the mine for minor burns and sent home, are Mike Stankiewicz and W. A. Blair, electricians.

Harold Walker, state superintendent of mines and minerals, said the blast "probably was a local gas explosion."

The accident occurred between 8.30 and 9 p.m., mine officials said, in the Orient mine of the Chicago, Wilmington and Franklin Coal Co. It is the largest one-shaft mine in the world, employing more than 1,100 men who produce about 10,000 tons a day.

In two recent southern Illinois disasters, 111 men were killed in an explosion at a Centralia mine March 25. An explosion July 24 in a mine across town here from the New Orient killed 27 men.

U.S. Living Costs Highest On Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—New government reports Thursday showed United States living costs at a record high, wholesale prices still climbing and little chance for any general lowering of food and textile prices.

But President Truman told a press conference he hopes that a Justice Department investigation of high prices of food, clothing and shelter will get results. He added that the investigation is more likely to point the finger at whoever is responsible for high prices than to bring actual reductions.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics gave a final, official reading of 157.1 for its consumers' price index as of June 15. That was a record high, 57.1 per cent above the pre-war mark, for the essentials that families of moderate means buy in large cities.

Meatless Days End In Canadian Cafes

OTTAWA (CP)—An official of the Canadian Meat Board, the government agency concerned with exports, said Thursday the elimination of meatless days in restaurants, effective today, was the result of an improvement in meat exports to Britain.

Canada has an agreement to ship Britain 265,000,000 pounds of bacon this year and also had estimated she could ship 120,000,000 pounds of beef and approximately 12,000,000 pounds of mutton and ample surpluses showed up here.

Although endorsing the end of meatless days, Pacific coast restaurateurs reported difficulty in securing sufficient meat to satisfy their customers.

Former Student At Victoria School Wins Mural Contest

Eric Thorn, a former student of St. Michael's School, Victoria, has been announced winner of the Canadian National Exhibition mural competition for Canadian artists under the age of 21 years. Young Thorn received 83 marks out of a possible 100.

Competitors were required to enter small drawings on the theme of "Canada, Our Land and Our People." The entries were judged by B. K. Sandwell, editor of the Toronto Saturday Night, and artists Charles Comfort and Arthur Lismer.

Thorn will now paint his mural, 12 by 18 feet in size, in the International Building, Toronto, and will receive a prize of $300.

Cooler Weather Aids Firefighters

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP)—Cooler weather and a promise of rain today led firefighters to hope that within 24 hours or so they would have checked all the forest fires which earlier threatened millions of dollars worth of timber in the vast Algoma territory north of here.

There were a total of 35 separate fires in the great timberlands but only seven of these were uncontrolled Thursday, and by nightfall the weary firefighters under Ontario forestry department supervision believed they had got the upper hand in all of the outbreaks.

The biggest fire on which absolute control had not yet been gained was believed to be that near Cape Gargantua, but the firefighters were making headway on this one and defence lines were holding all around it.

Regina Deluged

REGINA (CP)—A brief, sudden storm Thursday deluged Regina with an inch of rain, cut off power temporarily and left piles of hailstones drifted against downtown stores but spared wheatfields nearly ready for harvest in surrounding districts.

More than three feet of water swirled in subways and several intersections were covered by more than two feet of water as storekeepers piled sandbags in front of doorways. A park in downtown Regina was covered with a thin layer of hailstones while drifts nearly two feet high were reported. Department of Transport meteorologists said today the storm was extremely localized.

Train Phone Service Inaugurated In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some railroads are inaugurating today on New York-Washington trains a train-telephone service with the cost of a call about the same as from standard, non-speeding telephone booths.

You stroll into the lounge car, where you find a telephone booth which is cushioned and air-conditioned. You pick up the receiver, give your number and the operator does the rest.

What actually happens, the experts say, is that the train phone operates by short-wave to a nearby telephone office. From there, the call goes by telephone wire just as any ordinary call does.

Calls can reach passengers in reverse procedure.

Post Office Warns Against Misuse Of Yellow Food Labels

Misuse of yellow labels on parcels to Britain means certain delay in delivery and possible confiscation of the parcel, a statement issued by Post Office authorities warns.

"The current world food shortage which has resulted in the continuance of austerity diets for the war-harassed people of Britain, has stimulated the desire of Canadians with relatives and friends in the United Kingdom to help by sending gift food parcels," the statement reads.

To speed up delivery of such parcels, the Post Office Department advocates the use of a yellow label in addition to the customs declaration.

The yellow label must only be affixed to parcels containing food exclusively and a customs declaration must be fully and accurately completed. Clothing and other items must have accurate customs declarations affixed but no yellow label.

Foodless Jap Family Held At Moose Jaw Would Return To B.C.

MOOSE JAW, Sask. (AP)—A family of five Japanese-Canadians—Inmates of the Japanese relocation centre here—today asked to be treated "like other Canadian citizens" and allowed to return to the Vancouver home from which they were taken by R.C.M.P. officers in November, 1942.

They said they did not know how they would eat—camp authorities Thursday night stopped serving meals in the mess hall and said that jobs and transportation were available for the 59 inmates—but would not leave the camp voluntarily.

Members of the family are Mr. and Mrs. Tomijiro Naka, naturalized more than 40 years ago in Vancouver; their three sons, Isao, 27, Tsueno, 26, and Masao, 24; their daughter, Shizuyd, 32, and her 36-year-old fiancé, Frank Kazuo. Kazuo and the Naka children were born in Canada.

In an interview Thursday, Tsueno Naka described the five-years' internment since the family was jailed in 1942 for a breach of the Wartime Evacuation Act. They had been advised in February, 1942, to take employment in the interior but refused because they feared they would not be allowed to return if they accepted.

They still refused to accept federal relocation proposals and wanted their rights as citizens.

They served seven days in a prison farm, after their arrest in November and then were sent east in two groups—the men to a camp at Angler, Ont., and the women to camps at Roseberry and Tashme, B.C. They did not see each other again until July, 1946, when they were reunited at the Moose Jaw camp, formerly an R.C.A.F. Flying School.

"We want to be treated like other Canadian citizens and allowed to go back home," Naka said. "We want to be compensated for the five years we have been interned."

Before the war, Tsueno and Isao worked in Vancouver district pulp mills, Masao in a lumber yard and Mrs. Naka operated a confectionery store on Vancouver's Powell Street. Shizuyd, an Associate of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, was a music teacher.

Kathleen Starling, 18, and Mary Simm, 17, both of 210 Government Street, were taken to Jubilee Hospital Wednesday evening to be treated for cuts sustained while riding on a motorcycle driven south on Government Street, police reported, by Ronald Eberts, 17, Y.M.C.A. The machine went off the road and knocked down 15 feet of fence.

Home Building Increases Under Housing Plan

TORONTO (CP)—An increase in home building under the recently introduced integrated housing plan was indicated in figures released here Thursday showing that more than 5,500 units had been approved for construction by the end of July.

For builders entering the plan, the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation offers increased loans, priorities on materials and a guarantee that any house not sold within six months will be purchased by the government.

A stipulation is that the ultimate sale price of the house is determined before construction begins, and sales are restricted to veterans unless the corporation authorizes otherwise.

Figures indicated Ontario was leading with 1,341 houses started and 675 completed. Quebec has 674 started, 179 finished; the prairie provinces, 1,574 started, 398 completed; British Columbia, 429 started, 83 completed, and the Maritimes 23 under way with none finished yet.

Labor Day Sports To Be Gala Event At Port Alberni

PORT ALBERNI — Inquiries are coming from loggers in every centre on the coast, for entries in the world championship power saw bucking contest, and other events which will highlight the annual two-day festival of loggers' sports, water sports, parades and dance to be held here Aug. 31 and Sept. 1.

Paul Bunyan Committee of the Alberni District Joint Labor Council sponsors the events. Power saw buckers will compete for a trophy presented by the Pacific Tribune, as well as cash prizes of $300 for first place, $200 for second and $100 for third. Individual cups will be presented to the world champion power saw buckers each year, but the big trophy will be a perpetual award, having to be won three years in succession to be retained by a contestant.

A trophy and cups have also been donated for the world championship tree climbing and log burling contests. Hand bucking, chopping, splicing contests, lumber piling and tallying, and other sawmill sports will provide colorful entertainment for the spectators.

Canadian War Correspondent Questions Admiralty Conclusions On Dieppe Raid

(Ross Munro, author of the following analysis will address the Canadian Club in Victoria Aug. 22.)

By ROSS MUNRO
OTTAWA (CP)—Suggestion in the British Admiralty report on the Dieppe raid that the landing party encountered by the Royal Regiment of Canada on the left flank at Puits was a chief cause of military failure is certainly open to question by soldiers who shared in the operation. As a correspondent for the Canadian Press with the Royals at Puits, I would challenge any such conclusion.

While the Royals were mowed down in the narrow gulch leading off the Puits beach, due to a late landing, and were unable to carry out their advance inland as planned, this hardly seems to be the main reason why Dieppe was not the success intended.

While the attack at Puits bogged down in a terrific slaughter in which only about 53 out of about 600 got off that beach, there was also great difficulty from the start on the main beach, right in front of Dieppe, where three infantry battalions and elements of a tank regiment landed.

Even if the Royals had been successful in storming Puits on the left flank, it is doubtful whether the main beach could have been assaulted successfully and entrance forced in strength into the town of Dieppe itself, which was the main target.

The fiery, lengthy fight on the main beach, which saw the Essex

Scottish from Windsor, Ont., the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry and tanks of the Calgary Regiment pinned down along the seawall in front of the 200-yard-wide esplanade, did not have any great relationships to the situation at Puits at any time during the eight-hour operation.

NOT ENOUGH POWER

The units on the main beach simply were not supplied with sufficient fire power to enable them to get across the fire-swept esplanade into the town. The seven destroyers out to sea and the medium and fighter bombers simply could not give the support necessary, and this lack of support is acknowledged in the admiralty conclusions.

The success of the main beach attack counted more than any other in the opinion of the planners, and not the attack on the left flank at Puits, which in the long run was to be rather discretionary.

On the right flank at Pourville, the South Saskatchewan Regiment and the Queens Own Cameron Highlanders of Winnipeg made a successful landing, as the Royals intended to do at Puits, but this success in itself did not eliminate the fire from the western headland onto the main beach, which was one of the intended purposes of the Pourville attack.

It was working up on pillboxes on this western headland where Lt.-Col. C. C. Merritt, commander of the S.S.R., won his Victoria Cross.

Want No Austerity For Royal Wedding

LONDON (Reuter)—The Daily Express today called for a non-austerity celebration of Princess Elizabeth's wedding to Lieut. Philip Mountbatten Nov. 20.

Those who argue that a celebration with high pageantry would be resented have no understanding of the British spirit, Lord Beaverbrook's paper said.

The Express recalled that when Queen Victoria married Prince Albert in 1840, times were bad, "but it did not occur to the sturdy Victorians that this was a sound reason for banning joy on the Queen's wedding day."

"If the nation is denied the right to rejoice with the Princess," it said, "it will appear to the world that Britain has lost faith in herself."

White Paper Shows Defence Of Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—The achievements, needs and objectives of the defence of Canada will be outlined in a white paper which will be released for publication in about three weeks, Defence Minister Claxton announced Thursday.

He said the paper, similar to one put out by the United Kingdom government some time ago, now was being printed.

The third and last volume of the records of the R.C.A.F. and a short history of the Canadian Army in the Second World War also had been placed in the hands of printers and likely would be available before the end of the year.

Mass Poison Attempt

RANGOON (AP)—An attempt to poison high-ranking officers of the People's Volunteer Organization, militant "private army" of the anti-Fascist People's Freedom League, was made Thursday night during a dinner party, officials said today. Shortly after the dinner 11 officers collapsed and were taken to hospital. Seven were detained for further treatment.

Czechs Arrest 4

PRAGUE (AP)—Rude Pravo, Communist organ, reported today that Czechoslovak police at Karlovy Vary (Karlsbad) in Bohemia have arrested four Jewish extremists on charges of bringing explosives to the Spa, where a World Zionist Congress is in session.

The paper identified the quartette as members of Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground organization blamed for terrorist activities in Palestine. Police said there was no specific evidence that they were members of Irgun.

Those arrested were found in possession of a suitcase full of homemade bombs and bottles of explosives, police said.

Cries Before Birth

CINCINNATI, O. (AP)—A rare case of an infant crying a full hour before birth was reported Thursday by Dr. Joseph Crotty, Cincinnati obstetrician. Dr. Crotty said the baby was delivered normally and that her birth was followed quickly by that of a twin sister. Both infants and mother were reported in excellent condition.

Shooting Case In 1919 Recalled

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP)—Sheriff R. E. Brady said yesterday he had written the Chief Constable at Edmonton, Alberta, relaying what he said was a prisoner's statement of slaying a Constable Nixon at Edmonton in 1919.

The prisoner, William A. Bowles, 49, no address, was sentenced to 15 years in the Washington State Prison for auto theft and was taken to Walla Walla Wednesday. He had been arrested at Camas.

Brady said Bowles told him that in October, 1919, while engaged in a burglary at Edmonton, he shot and killed Constable Nixon, using a .38 calibre Smith and Wesson revolver.

The sheriff quoted Bowles further as saying that no one had ever been convicted of the slaying but that police had directed inquiry into activities of a man named Larson who, Bowles said, now is serving a life sentence on other charges.

There was no confirmation of Bowles' story available here.

AN IMPORTANT GATHERING

ONE OF THE TRICKY QUESTIONS which the Foreign Ministers of a score of American nations will have to decide as they begin their deliberations down in the Brazilian city of Petropolis is whether such decisions as they may reach for joint action in hemispheric defence shall be given force by complete unanimity or on the basis of a two-thirds majority. The government of the Argentine is on record as insisting upon the unanimous vote principle. Most of the smaller Latin American republics, however, and for reasons which require little emphasis, are extremely apprehensive of an attempt to apply the veto under this system. Those statesmen who are staking much on the success of this gathering naturally are hopeful that no stumbling block shall hinder what ought to presage smooth-running co-operation between all the states represented.

It will be recalled that in the month preceding the San Francisco Conference in 1945 the 21 republics which constitute the Pan-American Union agreed upon the basic provisions of what has gone down on the record of western hemispheric collaboration in matters of defence as the Act of Chapultepec. But in view of the fact that disturbed political conditions in the Argentine, occasioned by the rise to power of Dictator Juan Domingo Peron, had severely strained diplomatic relations between Washington and Buenos Aires, the full implications of the decisions reached at the conference while the Second World War was still raging have had neither force nor effect. To what extent the representatives of the Argentine government have been instructed to act in response to majority desires will be determined only by the course of events during the next few days. It should nevertheless be reasonable to expect that, by reason of the hampering effect which the exercise of the veto by the Soviet Union has had upon the deliberations of the Security Council during the last year, Dictator Peron—if his purpose in being represented at Petropolis is a sincere one—will insist upon no procedure that might seriously impede the success of this new attempt to reach a workable agreement in respect of the future joint defence of the Americas.

In the discussions and the decisions reached at Petropolis, Canada, as an important North American nation, is necessarily vitally interested. She has no representative in attendance; she is not a member of the Pan-American Union; but her interests are so closely allied with those of the countries south of the Mexican border that her support and co-operation in the working of subsequent policies for joint action may be regarded as a foregone conclusion. What may eventuate from this conference of Foreign Ministers, of course, will in no way compromise the position of any government's membership in the United Nations Organization.

Support for this contention may be found in Article 52 of Chapter VIII of the San Francisco Charter—which does not preclude the existence of "regional arrangements or agencies for dealing with such matters relating to the maintenance of international peace and security," so long as the activities of such arrangements or agencies "are consistent with the Purposes and Principles of the United Nations." In other words, an amicable and workable agreement with a purely defensive object, in contradistinction to the purpose of aggression, would be highly complementary to the aims and objects laid down in the San Francisco document.

A LOGICAL EMPLOYMENT

CONSIDERABLE INTEREST ATTACHES to the visit to Paris of Mr. Camille Gutt, head of the $8,800,000,000 International Monetary Fund set up under United Nations auspices. He leaves Washington today to confer with the representatives of 16 European nations which will participate in the rehabilitation program under the "Marshall Plan," and it is expected that he will offer the facilities of the Fund to assist the projected economic reorganization. The $9,100,000,000 resources of the International Bank, also a United Nations by-product, already have been pledged to assist the American proposal. Similar action by the trustees of the Monetary Fund would enormously increase the financial backing which participating nations could expect, and in part relieve the United States of the tremendous burden which would be involved in carrying the "Marshall Plan" to its logical conclusion.

Originally, the International Bank and the Monetary Fund were established through contributions by member nations for the purpose of lending money to bolster failing currencies of such countries as were in temporary difficulties and to assist, through the extension of credit, in fostering international trade. To date—a year after their inception—the resources of the Bank and the Fund have been used sparingly, with The Netherlands and France so far the only countries to receive assistance.

It would need no stretching of constitutional provisions to apply these balances to the reconstruction of European economies. With the 16 countries themselves making a joint effort, backed by the two world agencies and the resources of the United States, there would be a good indication of success in carrying out the "Marshall Plan." Under their charters, the Bank and the Fund likely have much less elasticity as regards repayment of credits than would prevail in loans extended by the United States alone. Washington's determination to restore European finances and encourage such democratic governments as wish to take advantage of the "Marshall Plan" will permit a wider latitude in repayment than might be entertained by the group of nations whose quota contributions provide the assets of the Bank and the Monetary Fund. Be that as it may, the two global agencies could be no better employed than in the rehabilitation of war-torn Europe. Developments of the next few days will be watched with interest on both sides of the Atlantic.

TIME FOR ACTION

ON THE FRONT PAGE OF THIS NEWS-paper yesterday appeared a picture of the Inner Harbor at low tide. It emphasized some observations to which we gave expression in these columns only a few days ago. It served to underscore a condition which calls for some practical amelioration.

It is not fair to blame the present civic administration for the disgusting condition to which we have drawn attention on numerous occasions. Those members of the City Council who drew their aldermanic salaries in the early thirties and until the outbreak of the Second World War must accept their responsibility for the state of affairs reflected in the illustration to which we have referred.

Mr. Mayhew, the able and progressive representative of the people of Victoria in the House of Commons at Ottawa, was quite correct when he intimated that the initiative for the improvement of conditions in the Inner Harbor would have to come from the civic administration. And when the federal member for the capital city gave voice to these sentiments he was not criticizing the progressive attitude of Mayor George. On the contrary, Mr. Mayhew was, by inference at any rate, telling the people of this capital city of British Columbia to throw off their lethargy and do something on their own account.

The condition to which we have drawn attention, incidentally, obviously will suggest that it will be expedient to nominate candidates for civic office in the election next December who will support the present Mayor in initiating the active policy which these times demand.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

NOT SO VERY LONG AGO THE C.C.F. government of Saskatchewan was making a noisy song and dance about the box factory it had acquired in Prince Albert. Now it appears that this particular institution is not running anything like so smoothly as its owners predicted it would. The present trouble has arisen because the Socialist management discharged two operatives—which action induced 70 other employees to take a day off in protest. So the C.C.F. fired all of them.

It does not require a great deal of imagination to describe what would have happened had this Prince Albert institution been operated under "capitalistic" auspices. What a howl would have gone up to high heaven if so wholesale a dismissal had taken place! This is the way the London Free Press recounts the incident:

But, when this happens in the C.C.F. government's box factory, what happens? Well, it turns out that the two who were fired for "gross inefficiency" and for taking another job when on the sick leave granted by a benevolent employer. Because of this, management had to deal firmly with men so blind to their own welfare as to walk out in sympathy. The strikers were given one chance to change their minds. Then the axe fell and the heads rolled into the basket.

Little needs to be added to the foregoing to explain the dilemma in which the C.C.F. government of Saskatchewan now finds itself. Nor must Premier Douglas and his ministerial colleagues at Regina be surprised if old-fashioned folk in other parts of Canada laugh out loud as they contemplate the circumstances surrounding the trials and tribulations of this Socialist industrial venture in Prince Albert.

NOT OVERCROWDED

ACCORDING TO A DISPATCH FROM Vancouver recently, Hon. Gordon S. Wismer says a report that the Oakalla Prison Farm was overcrowded is "entirely without foundation." It would be foolish to argue with the first law officer of the Crown over a question such as this. The Attorney-General is noted for his meticulous regard for factual detail—particularly when it has especial concern for his department of the government.

It is not our intention to be flippant with respect to a matter of this kind. But we, in common with all the rest of the people of this province, are glad to learn that the province's penal institution is not handicapped by a shortage of accommodation. And it is to be hoped that when the revived Borstal System becomes operative in British Columbia, Mr. Wismer will be able to announce that the accommodation at Oakalla will be still less strained.

It is true that a "happy ending" pleases men more than women. It is the women who enjoy the endless woe of the soap operas.

Britain's Problem

Following is the second of two excerpts from the speech by Lord Brand in the House of Lords, reviewing Britain's finances. The speaker, well known as an economist and banker, served as a British financial expert in Washington during both world wars. In the recent conflict he also served as chairman of the British Supply Council.

IF WE AS A NATION are working very hard we are certainly not doing ourselves justice before the world. We are clearly not doing our best in the coal and building industries. Moreover, shortening of hours is at this moment, in the face of the world, paradoxical, and not the best prelude to borrowing because we say we are too poor. We have to remember that the outside world often sees us more clearly than we see ourselves. I remember that after the last war the French were always blaming the British for appreciating the pound. They did not see that it was the franc that was depreciated, because the franc was something that did not change, so far as they were concerned. Now foreign nations watch us with extreme interest all the time. They realize that we are like a building held up by scaffolding—controls of all kinds—and they are wondering whether we are really going to make the effort ourselves to restore the building before the scaffolding shows signs of weakening.

A PART FROM CONTROLS, our troubles appear to me to come from two causes. The first is that most people here have more purchasing power in their pockets than the relative amount of goods to be purchased. The second is that they have expected too much from the Labor government. It is a serious defect, to my mind (I speak not as a party politician, which I am not) that Socialist teaching has always been in favor of the distribution and not of the production of wealth. The distribution of wealth has been taught for many years as the cure and end-all. Now we have come to the end of the distribution of wealth; and we find that the mere distribution of wealth, which is desirable if it goes not beyond the point where it destroys initiative, is in itself no cure at all. The cure is a greater production; and there socialism has hitherto failed, whether in this country, in France or in other countries, either as against capitalism or, even, I think, communism with its big stick.

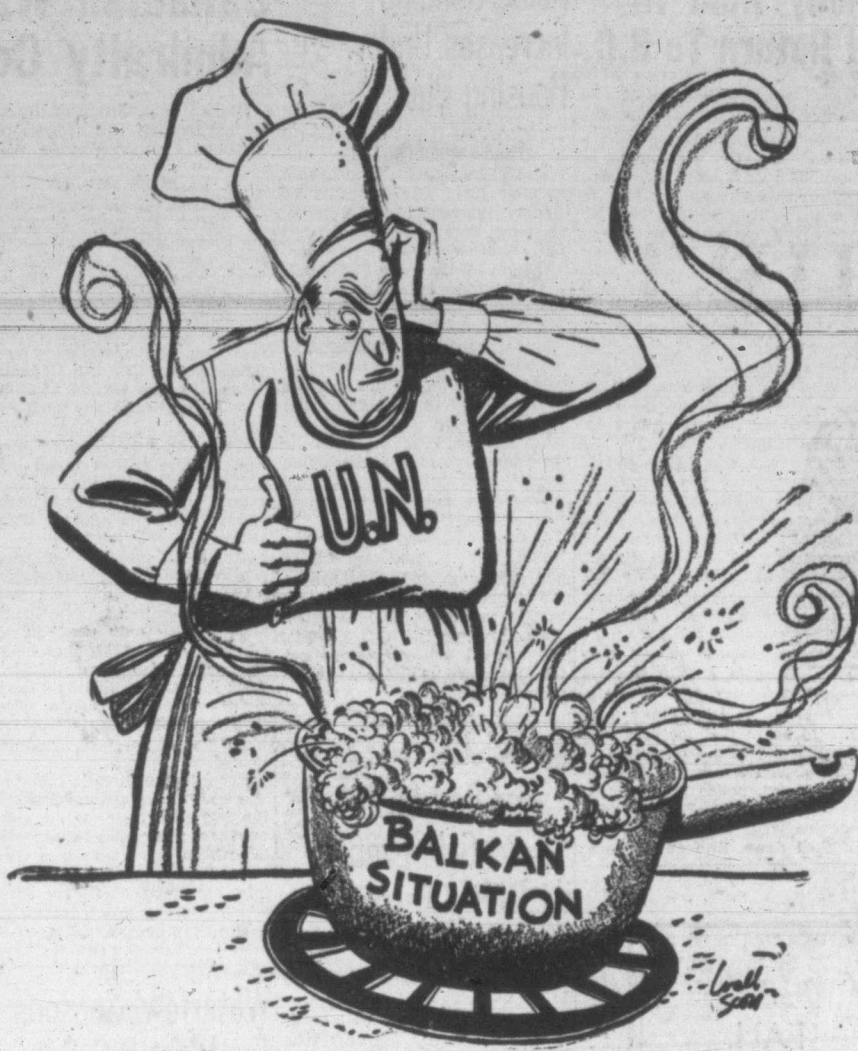

IT WOULD BE UNFAIR not to say that our lesser output in this country is due also to the lack of modernization, and possibly to restrictive measures among considerable circles in British industry. But to which side the lack of modernization can be put down—whether to employers only, or to the employed as well—I would not like to say. I think that there was a combination of both before the war, and it was seriously at fault so far as the welfare of our country was concerned. The government, of course, have long been aware of the vital importance of output, but nothing much happens. If nationalization were the answer, I would be in favor of it; but experience proves that it is not. We have plenty of examples already of nationalized industries; we know how good they are, and how bad they are, compared with private enterprise—some are good, and some are bad.

WE KNOW THAT the Prussian railways were well run, and that the American telephone system is vastly superior to the British telephone system. There is really nothing to show that any nationalization scheme will greatly increase the output of wealth, and I take the view that nationalization has nothing whatever to do with the problems that face us so seriously in this country. I remember the dictum of the late Lord Keynes, that, so far as the welfare of the country was concerned, there could be nothing more unimportant than the nationalization of railways. That was said before the war.

I WOULD LIKE TO EXPRESS my opinion that if nationalization goes beyond public utilities and extends into the exporting and competitive industries, the result will be very damaging to the country for several reasons, of which I will mention only one. The only way in which we can really build up our invisible exports in the future is by extending our investments in other countries. I do not believe, with the world as it is, that governments are going to be allowed by other governments to invest large sums of money in industries in their countries. I believe, therefore, that our only chance of building up our investments is to do as we did in years past, by the enterprise and energy of our private corporations and companies, which would have a great deal more chance of doing so than any government.

IT IS OBVIOUS that we are in an exceedingly difficult position, partly because of the part we played in the war, and partly because conditions have turned out very unfavorably for us. We shall be called upon for the greatest efforts. We shall solve our problems in time, because every nation has to solve its problems; it cannot live on other nations. In my view, we shall not balance without first a fall in the price of imports relative to those of exports; secondly, without a considerable increase in international trade which we hope the Marshall Plan will help to produce; and, thirdly, without much greater efforts and, I fear, much greater sacrifices on our part. We cannot tell how this very difficult position is going to develop in the coming months. I hope, myself, if it were clear that conditions were becoming so serious that we must, as in wartime, act as a united nation, that we should find the means of doing so.

U.N. Must Solve The Balkan Problem

By JAMES THRASHER, From New York

GREECE has laid before the United Nations Security Council an explosive proposal of U.N. intervention "to halt the spread of undeclared war" in the Balkans. The proposal itself is in order, and represents one of the steps to guard peace which were envisioned when the Charter was written. It is the background which adds peril to an already dangerous situation.

What Greece has done is to ask the council to invoke the powers of Chapter VII of the Charter. This chapter consists of actions which the council shall take in the event of threats to the peace, breaches of the peace, and acts of aggression.

GREEK CLAIM

But Chapter VII includes Article 51, which says, "Nothing of the present Charter shall impair the inherent right of individual or collective self-defense if an armed attack occurs against a member of the United Nations."

Greece claims that armed attacks already have been made upon her government's forces from across the northern borders. The U.N. investigating commission found that Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania were giving active and unneutral aid to the Greek guerrillas, though it did not accuse troops of these countries, or an "international brigade," of actual participation in the fighting.

Russia has called the Balkan commission's report a lie in almost so many words. The Soviet delegate vetoed a further investigation of the Balkan crisis. He would surely veto any motion to use the powers given the council in Chapter VII. But Greece has hinted that she will resort to Article 51 in such an event, for that article requires no council action and cannot be vetoed.

It might be said that the Greek government has already invoked Article 51 by defending itself against what it charges is an attack launched from a foreign country with foreign troops participating. However, this "escape clause" has not been invoked to its full extent, for there is also a mention of "collective self-defense."

This might mean that the Turkish government, finding itself endangered by the action to the north, would join forces with the Greeks. It is unlikely that the United States, Britain or any power distant from the scene of conflict would plead "self-defense" and give Greece active military assistance.

Yet Greece and Turkey have been promised American aid. Their self-defense, with American equipment, might be the signal for Russia to give open and active support to her satellites, though that possibility seems remote.

WAY NOT WANTED

No major power is ready for a major war. Certainly no government outside the iron curtain wants war. Almost certainly the Soviet government does not want war now. As for its future intentions, no one outside the iron curtain can surely say.

Nevertheless, the Greek proposal is explosive. It is, in effect, an invitation for the U.N. to go its way without Russia. It may also be feared that it is an invitation to World War III.

The proposal will not get far in the council. But it remains the latest and most dangerous development in a world situation which is relentlessly developing as a consequence of the veto and Russia's use of it.

Mr. Bidault did well to go to the limit of his patience and make final proposals which he hoped would win Russia over to the stand taken by Great Britain and France. He did better still to give up when that failed and join England in calling a conference of 22 nations on July 12 to deliberate ways and means of quickly implementing the suggestion made by Mr. Marshall in his speech at Harvard University on June 5.

ORGANIZE NOW

Let us organize western Europe. When the U.S.S.R. sees that that organization is not directed against her, that it does not entail a loss of independence for the nations taking part, either she will join in, which would be a tremendous benefit for the peace, or else she will remain outside, trusting in a military and economic power which, alone, can equal that of the United States. Then it will remain to establish between these two groups, by means of trade treaties, economic accords and a comprehensive and flexible diplomacy, normal relations which will make it possible to dissipate suspicion.

THIRDS ON CRISIS

Edmonton Journal

Britain's history is largely a record of crises surmounted, and there is no basic reason why she cannot weather the present storm. It is still a little too early to be drawing designs for Britain's tombstone.

Heading North

The first Arctic expedition to leave Britain since the war sailed recently. It is sponsored by the Oxford University Exploration Club and consists of a team of eight scientists and a medical officer as well as a film unit comprising a director with two photographers. The destination is Jan Mayen, a bleak windswept island off the east coast of Greenland rarely visited hitherto. One of the main tasks will be to retrieve and examine the scientific recording instruments deposited ten years ago for the purpose of registering the effects of the cosmic rays. The film unit will produce documentary and educational films of Arctic animal and plant life.

Global Survey

Associated Press
Foreign Affairs Analyst

THE INTER-AMERICAN conference on hemispheric defence, assembling in Rio de Janeiro today, should have been held long ago, but while it is late it does arrive at an opportune moment to bolster a harassed United Nations in efforts to re-establish and maintain peace.

The purpose of the conference is to implement the historic Act of Chapultepec, adopted by the nations of the two Americas at Mexico City in March, 1945. This act not only provided for concerted action to repel aggression from abroad, but aimed to keep peace among the nations of the hemisphere.

The Act of Chapultepec was hailed by Senator Tom Connally, then chairman of the foreign relations committee of the United States Senate, as one of the greatest state papers in the world—a new Monroe Doctrine backed by all the Americas instead of just the United States. The Senator said the act was a forerunner of what it was hoped would happen a month later at San Francisco where the world security conference was to create a new peace organization to take the place of the League of Nations.

DIFFERENT THEN

The conference of Chapultepec was held as the Allies were delivering the final knockout blow to Nazism. The Big Three—America, Britain and Russia—were close brothers in arms and all was honey and flowers among them. Few there were who doubted that this trio of powers would be the backbone of the new United Nations. Certainly there never could come a time when there would be a serious clash among them.

Perhaps it was partly because of this feeling of security that the Americas didn't get together sooner to implement the Act of Chapultepec, although of course the differences between the U.S.A. and the Argentine were the direct cause of much delay. Anyway the matter has been allowed to drag along until now the security of the western hemisphere has become a matter of grave concern.

Russia, Britain and America no longer are the big three in unity. They are the big two and the big one, leaders respectively of the western and the eastern blocs of nations. Even the United Nations has been made impotent by Russia's employment of the veto in connection with virtually every major issue that has arisen.

And so it is encouraging now to see the Rio meeting finally under way. It is in no way a challenge to the U.N., since regional agreements among nations are permissible under the charter of that organization. On the contrary a Pan-American agreement for defensive solidarity would provide a grand complement to the U.N., and would strengthen its hand immensely.

The writing on the wall is clear. The time has arrived when the western hemisphere should go all out in providing for solidarity of defence.

REFRESHING

Halifax Herald

It is refreshing to meet now and again one who has fixed convictions, who has avoided the weather-vane method of judging the standards of life. It is almost a thrilling experience to meet one who is reasonably inflexible upon great basic principles.

BEYOND THEIR CONTROL

Washington Post

The British loan agreement was "sold" to the American people by stressing the presumed benefits derivable from the sterling convertibility and nondiscrimination clauses. But the obstacles to world trade recovery have proved much more formidable than had been foreseen, making it necessary to deal generously with debtors in the position of the British whose inability to fulfill their promises are due largely, though not wholly, to conditions beyond their control.

YOUTH AND MINK

Windsor Star

Currently, official Canada is pondering the question of a suitable wedding present for Princess Elizabeth and Lieutenant Philip Mountbatten. This is a matter that is more a pleasure than a state duty, and it should not prove at all difficult.

Some early suggestions are that the gift might be fashioned from precious metals, or take the form of a mink coat.

The Princess is 21, attractive, and her tastes do not differ from those of other girls of her age. Our guess is that she would go for the mink coat.

Driver Of Logging Truck In Pair Of Highway Accidents

A logging truck driver, Stewart Simpson, 1135 Empress Avenue, was involved in two accidents with loaded and unloaded trucks equipped with the same trailer yesterday evening—on the Island Highway where Craigflower and Admirals Road meet it at 5, and an hour later about a mile from that scene on Craigflower.

On the first occasion the vehicle, with a full load of logs aboard, overturned as it rounded the bend in the Island Highway coming toward the city and spilled timber over the road. Nobody was hurt, according to Constable Jack Lockie of the Provincial Police who was joined at the scene by Constables R. W. Sinclair and A. Quinn. They kept traffic moving.

The driver told police he was forced to quickly apply his brakes when a car cut in front of him and the result was the truck turned over.

About an hour later the log-trailer, attached to another truck, but empty, and in charge of the same driver, broke loose from the truck on Craigflower and careened to the side of the road and met a car going west, driven by Richard Thiessen, Thieppe Road, in collision. The car driver and his wife were taken to hospital, treated for light injuries and then released. Sgt. Alex Smart of the Esquimalt Police attended with other members of the force.

At 9 in the evening the trouble-some trailer, being towed to town, ceased to operate when its axle broke on Gorge Road. Sgt. Cecil Pearce and Constable Robert Coleman of the Saanich Police attended here.

Victoria Athletics Guests Of Rotary

"Professional baseball is an expensive business," J. V. Johnson, president of the Victoria Athletics, told the Rotary Club Thursday. "However," he continued, "the cost of the Athletics to the city of Victoria is overshadowed by the value of the publicity which the team gives to this city when it is abroad."

Mr. Johnson asked that fans be not too critical of a player's faults. "When a player fumbles the ball and makes a man in the stands feel bad, he feels 10 times worse than that man does."

"You can't expect these boys to be perfect," he said. "If they were perfect they would be up in the major leagues."

"A major league is the goal of everyone of these boys," he added, "and I hope they get there."

Mr. Johnson introduced members of the team individually to the club and then turned the program over to Bill White, right fielder.

White played two selections on the piano and sang a number of comic songs to his own accompaniment. The team as a whole sang "The Rooster's Song," which White explained was sung in the showers following a victory.

Len Kasparovitch, pitcher, entertained the club with a hula-hula dance. He was accompanied by the singing of White and Ray Fortier.

Ted Norbert, team manager, thanked the club for having the Athletics as their guests.

Program proceedings were recorded by Eric Bailey on a Peirce Magnetic Wire Recorder. At the conclusion of the program Mr. Bailey played the wire so the ball players could hear their own voices.

Protest Labor Man As Conciliator

VANCOUVER (CP) — L. B. Jack, secretary of the British Columbia Electric Company, protested today to Labor Minister George S. Pearson that a labor union official cannot sit as a disinterested judge on a conciliation board in a wage dispute. He claimed that a labor man has a "direct" and "pecuniary" interest in all wage increases in a community.

Mr. Jack argued in a letter to the minister that Alexander (Sandy) Bevis, president of Local 226, Vancouver Typographical Union and Street Railwaymen's Union appointee to a conciliation board, is disqualified to sit under section 49 of the new Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

Decision to apply to the city council for the purchase of a second-hand 16 m.m. moving picture sound projector at a cost of $250 to be used in the city police campaign on traffic safety in the schools and before organizations, was made at Wednesday's meeting of Victoria Police Commission. The value of this educational undertaking was stressed and Mayor Percy George spoke of the good reports he had heard about Constable Brooke Douglas, in charge of the campaign.

Takull being whipped into shape for her 7,000-mile coast-to-coast cruise.

Within the next few days, 10 officers and men of the R.C.A.F. will leave Patricia Bay aboard the Air Force high-speed rescue launch Takull on what is known as "Operation Porpoise." The unusual voyage for a vessel of this class will be from the Air Force base here to Dartmouth, Nova Scotia, by way of the Panama Canal.

Purpose of the trip, which will take 40 days to complete, is to transfer the craft, which is too

Senator Pepper Endorses Truman

WASHINGTON (AP) — From the White House steps Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) voiced his support Thursday of President Truman for re-election.

"I don't think there is any question but that the President should be and will be nominated, and should be and will be elected," Pepper declared to reporters after a call on the President.

Canada Losing Few Mining Engineers

TORONTO (CP) — Canada is holding onto its new crop of mining engineers.

The Canadian Metal Mining Association says that of 54 graduates in 1947 only one has left Canada.

Though this year's class of 54 from eight universities and mining schools is the largest in years, 1948 will see graduates nearly doubled to a total of 97. Of the 1947 graduates, 50 per cent are veterans.

A third man is to be hired to care for Victoria's parking meters. He is to be supervisor and will start at a salary of $175, working up to $225 a month. Applications have been called for by Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the civic service committee, and must be in by Aug. 20.

Warrior To Return Canadian Scouts

Thirty-four Boy Scouts who now are in Moisson, France, representing Canada at the World Boy Scout Jamboree, have been notified they must return aboard the aircraft carrier Warrior at Glasgow, Scotland, on Aug. 20.

Scoutmaster A. L. Campbell, one of the three leaders with the boys, said the news came as a disappointment. It was hoped, he said, that the Canadian group would stay until the end of the Jamboree, Aug. 22, and then spend some time in London.

At present, the Canadian group is camped in a section where French Scouts from the Savoy region are hosts. Other countries represented in this section are New Zealand, Holland, Norway and Sweden.

Vancouver Island's delegate, Macgregor Macintosh, 223 Denison Road, was featured as a soloist at one of the Jamboree's campfire shows.

Parties Honor Bride-Elect

Among pre-nuptial events honoring Miss Eileen DeMaris, whose marriage takes place this Saturday, was a trousseau tea given by her mother, Mrs. J. C. DeMaris at the family home, 2403 Douglas Street, Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. DeMaris and Miss Gladys DeMaris, sister of the bride-elect, were also hostesses at a surprise shower at their Douglas Street home, when the guest of honor was presented with a gardenia corsage bouquet surrounded by Sweetheart rosebuds, and a gold satin bedspread and a clothes hamper from the assembled guests, who were Mesdames A. Stewart, A. J. McCollum, E. Rosenthal, E. Miller, W. Adam, B. Redford, O. Restell, Misses Kathleen Stewart, Joy Redshaw, Jocelyn Cruickshank, Nadine Blais, Jeanne Comeau and Ida De Candido.

Last week-end, when Miss DeMaris concluded her work with F. W. Woolworth Co., fellow employees presented her with a three-piece carving set.

Women's Shooting Styles Change

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES, SOUTH MARCH, Ont. (CP)—Note to designers of lady's shooting styles—the post-war trend is toward brevity, coolness and comfort.

Before the war the accepted costume for women participating in the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association was breeches, long-lace boots and heavy shooting jackets. It was difficult to distinguish between men and women.

Now-a-days you can't miss the curves of the curvaceous markswomen whether they are walking the ranges with rifle and telescope or prone on the firing mounds trying to show Canada's sharpshooters that they can hold their own in a man's market. The days of the breeches and boots appear to have gone.

Perhaps the 100-degree heat which has been cooking the ranges has been an influence, but at any rate only one of the six markswomen competink adheres to the orthodox get-up.

The style for coolness—at least it appeared that way—was set by Aileen Birch, slim, pert Calgary, Ian, who stroled to the shooting mounds in a swishy blouse, bobby sox, sandals and yellow eye-filling shorts, and before she started to fire she pulled on a light, shoulder-padded jacket covered with crests, proof of her prowess.

Taking the cue, Capt. Jean Dunbar of Vancouver, switched from slacks to khaki shorts, shirt to match and brown knee-length stockings.

A-top her head she perched a grey hat and then added a bit of color—a yellow ribbon.

Mrs. C. S. Hethey of Vancouver, a former Governor-General's prize winner, and Mrs. A. E. McNabb of Calgary, prefer light slacks or jodpurs and sandals.

To Attend Y.W.C.A. Conference

It is the first national gathering of Y.W.C.A. representatives and all sessions have been planned to discuss increased good fellowship and improvement of Y.W.C.A. work throughout Canada. Miss Mather, a Greater Victoria grade school teacher, was chosen by the Inter-Club Council here to represent the Victoria branch of the Y.W.C.A.

Spend Honeymoon At Sol Duc Springs

Honeymooning at Sol Duc Hot Spring, Olympic Peninsula, are Cyril Stanley Gilbert Willes, Vancouver, and his bride, the former Beryl Grace Pitt, whose marriage took place at St. Martins-in-the-Field, Aug. 8, with Rev. Canon A. E. Greenhalgh officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. P. Pitt, 2888 Heath Drive, and the groom's parents are Mrs. Frederick Willes, Vancouver, and the late Mr. Willes.

Traditional orange blossoms held the bride's filmy veil which billowed to her fingertips, over her white wedding gown fashioned with nylon skirt over taffeta, the bodice of embroidered net with nylon yoke outlined with applied flowers and with similar trimming from shoulder to wrists.

Given in marriage by her father the bride carried a bouquet of red roses and stephanotis and wore a double strand of pearls and a gold wrist watch, gifts of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Poole sang "O Promise Me" during the signing of the register.

Colonial bouquets were carried by bridal attendants Miss Lillian Mermoid as maid of honor, in blue; Miss Florence Willes, sister of the groom, and Miss Marion Pitt, cousin of the bride, as bridesmaids, in blue and pink bouffant frocks, respectively, worn with bandeaus of matching flowers in their hair, and elbow-length mitts.

The groom chose as best man Douglas Pitt, brother-in-law, and Peter Mackenzie and Gordon Hallam as ushers.

Len Mackenzie proposed the toast to the bride at a reception held at Hampton Hall, where Mrs. Pitt and Mrs. Willes assisted the young couple in welcoming guests, before a fireplace banked with flowers. The three-tiered cake flanked by silver vases of pink roses centred the heirloom Battenburg lace-covered refreshment table.

For her traveling costume the bride wore a dove-grey tailored suit with white accessories and a corsage bouquet of gardenias. Mr. and Mrs. Willes will live at Port Alb.

Canadian U.N.R.R.A. Worker Praises Work Of D.P.'s

TORONTO (CP) — Contacts with displaced persons and her work with Unrra were among the great experiences of her life, Daphne Phillips of Dawson Creek, B.C., said recently on her return to Canada after 18 months as a transportation officer with the relief organization.

"I wouldn't have missed the experience," she said. "It taught me so many useful things about living with people of different nationalities and conflicting views."

A former officer in the R.C.A.F. (W.D.), Miss Phillips' work with Unrra took her to Frankfurt and later to the organization's headquarters near Kassel in the United States zone.

"The people who impressed me most," said Miss Phillips, "were the displaced persons, especially the Balts. They are honest people who want to do things. Their resourcefulness and ingenuity are amazing."

Displaced persons made the smart, black gabardine suit worn by Miss Phillips and she regretted she had had not worn one of the several hats also designed by their clever fingers.

"Fashion magazines are snatched at eagerly," she said, "but most of the workers just look at them and then they design something for you on their own. The scarcity of material keeps them from doing all they would like. Wood, metal scraps of anything are turned into household utensils, serving trays, peasant blouses with wonderful embroidery. Most of the available material is supplied by 50 voluntary agencies for which Miss Marjorie Bradford of the Peace River district is the co-ordinator."

Hair Must Go Up With New Fall Hats

PARIS (AP) — Women will have to put their hair up if they want to wear the fall hats shown by French milliners.

American buyers took a fancy to Venetian bonnets, closely hugging the forehead and hiding the hair and ears, the big berets treated in the Flemish fashion, and some of the soft-brimmed felts.

One of the novelties was the introduction of suede, mainly for berets and toques. This was used by Mme. Legroux for a peaked round cap, decorated by a long glycerined ostrich feather.

Flying Plane Easy Says Pretty Pilot

MONTREAL (CP) — Anyone who can drive a car can fly an airplane. That is the opinion of Gloria Large, 22-year-old Prince Edward Islander who not only flies herself but is also a flight instructor.

Miss Large, who arrived in Montreal recently from her home town of Charlottetown, is one of five licensed women flying instructors in Canada. When she was 15 she went to Los Angeles and learned to fly. Although a "natural" at that comparatively early age, she insists that good health is the only qualification necessary for a good pilot.

In 1942 Gloria joined the Air Transport Auxiliary, the wartime British ferrying organization, and after a period of advanced training flying Harvards at the R.A.F. Transport Command at Dorval she went to England. For nearly a year and a half she ferried all types of aircraft from factories to R.A.F. bases. For her seven years as a pilot her log shows over 1,000 hours of solo time.

Early this year the young aviatrix passed examinations for a commercial pilot's licence and upon completion of tests in Halifax last month she was licensed as an instructor. She is presently teaching at the Laurentide Flying School at Cartierville, the postwar enterprise of three young R.C.A.F. pilots.

"More women should learn to fly," says Gloria. "It's a wonderful hobby and any girl who can drive an auto can learn to fly an airplane equally well."

The former A.T.A. pilot has a number of women students training in two-place Cessna aircraft. And according to her boss, Jack Schofield, interest among male students has revived considerably since her arrival.

University Women Conclude Sessions; Canadian New Head

MISS ROSEMARY HURST... Queen Contestant

Rosemary Hurst, 18-year-old Victoria College student and Victoria's May Queen in 1946, who is to date the only known British Columbia entry to be accepted for the Miss Canada Pageant to be held in Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 21 and 22, will leave Saturday on the afternoon boat for Vancouver taking the train for the east the same evening.

Five foot six with brown eyes, brown hair and a heart-shaped face, Rosemary is a beauty contestant without diet fads and fancies. She loves to swim and play baseball, having been first baseman with her high school team. Her favorite food is salads. Her make-up consists of a very little lipstick.

Before entering college, Rosemary made most of her own clothes, designing a number of them. She worked at nights throughout her high school and first-year college to help further her education and career plans. During this summer holidays she has stayed at home and done the cooking and housework for her mother and young brother.

"Sports and dancing are my favorite pastimes," said Rosemary today, as she received word from Hamilton on her departure. "I used to go in all the jitterbug contests when I was in high school."

Definitely interested in a career in modelling and dramatic arts, Rosemary hopes to go to the United States this year to live, regardless of the results of the Miss Canada Pageant.

However, the $1,000 scholarship for study at any dramatic school of the winner's own choosing, which is the first prize in the pageant, would help her plans along a great deal, according to Rosemary.

"There are so many good schools for that sort of thing down in the States," she said. The school chosen must meet with the approval of the contest committee. There are several lesser scholarships beside the $1,000 City of Hamilton Scholarship Award.

A member of the Victoria Little Theatre, Rosemary appeared on a local radio program during her final year at high school. She did a little modelling at a local fashion show, but says Toronto and Montreal are the only places for girls in Canada who wish to make a career as a model.

"At first I wanted to be a nurse that is why I took the arts and science course, for last year I was too young to go in training," she said. "However, five more years study seems a long time."

Rosemary intends to return to Victoria before going down to the States.

MANY DO'S, DON'TS

HAMILTON (CP)—To date 16 of Canada's most beautiful girls have signified their intention of vying for the "Miss Canada of 1947" honors here a week hence, and before the deadline rolls around at noon, Aug. 21, the list is expected to grow to about 50.

The girls who are seeking the $1,000 scholarship that goes with first place in the beauty contest, Thursday learned a flock of "do's" and "don'ts" by which they must abide from the minute they register until the final flash bulb goes off in the face of the new queen.

From 10 a.m. next Thursday morning until the crowning ceremony Friday, the girls will be chaperoned and their activities time-tabled to allow for press interviews, newsreel photographs, meals and sufficient sleep so that their looks will not be spoiled.

The letter sent contestants also warned that instant disqualification would result for any contestant who drinks any alcoholic beverage.

Aside from the scholarship, the winner of the Miss Canada crown will get an all-expense trip to Atlantic City, where she will be eligible for the Miss America title. Too, there is an all-expense trip to New York, a contract and a free course in modelling, a chest of silverware, a diamond ring and various articles of clothing.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Miss Dix: I have been happily married for the past six years, but I have a problem. My husband was adopted when just an infant a few days old by a couple who reared him, educated him and adored him. Especially was the woman, who is now a widow, devoted to him.

We have two little sons and this woman tries to call herself "Grandmother" to our babies. Of course, she is no relation to them and I have told her so and forbidden her call herself their Grandmother. While she bows to my wishes and does not visit in my home, it hurts my husband very much. He seems to think that he owes her something for what she has done for him, and that I am all wrong in my attitude toward her. She does not need financial assistance. Don't you think I am right?

MRS. F.C.

Answer: No. I have never known a woman to do a more heartless thing than you have done in begrudging a lonely old widow the poor compensation of being called Grandma by the children of the man for whom she has done so much. Adopted children owe a far greater debt of gratitude to their foster parents than children owe to their own parents. The man and woman who take a little orphan and give it love, home and an education have done an act so fine and noble that a child honors himself in calling them grandparents.

Banquet Given For Seattle Lodge

VICTORIA LODGES, No. 83 and No. 238, Daughters of St. George, held a joint banquet in the Strathcona Hotel to honor Seattle Lodge, No. 172.

Souvenirs of Victoria were presented to the visiting sisters by the Victoria lodges. Speeches were made by the district deputy of Seattle, Sister Gale; district deputy of Victoria, Sister Lomas; president of the Seattle lodge, Sister Nellis; and presidents of the Victoria lodges, Sisters Williams and Tapley. Following the banquet, a musical evening was enjoyed with solos and community singing.

While riots marked the dawn of India's independence, Miss Piloc Nanavutty of Bombay, expressed the hope "any bitterness that might be in the minds of those great British people, who have helped us to obtain our freedom," would disappear as the flags went up over Pakistan and Hindustan.

Six hundred university women, many of them wearing brilliant native costumes, crowded into the convention hall of the hotel for this giant I.F.U.W. banquet.

Miss Catherine Mackenzie of Montreal, mistress of ceremonies, and Dr. A. Vibert Douglas of Kingston, Ont., the new international president, in turn paid tribute to Dr. Stanislaw Adamowicz of Warsaw, who has headed the I.F.U.W. since its last convention at Stockholm in 1939.

"It is up to university women everywhere to continue working toward the ideals of world citizenship which all desire," said Dr. Douglas.

Dr. Douglas, dean of women at Queen's University, is one of the few astrophysicists in the world.

But when it comes to discussing her personal achievements, the Montreal-born scholar would sooner talk about the I.F.U.W.

"Just describe the magnificent work the federation is doing—that is more important than anything you can say about me," was her comment during a brief interview following the elections.

The next I.F.U.W. convention will be held in Switzerland in 1950, delegates decided during today's sessions. A council meeting will be held next summer in Denmark.

A move toward greater understanding among university women throughout the world was made by delegates in their approval of the resolution of Mrs. R. F. McWilliams of Winnipeg—that a four-page news sheet be published three times yearly. Carrying I.F.U.W. reports, the newspaper also would have space for national organizations to enter information of special interest. The resolution will be referred to the publications committee.

Britain, France, the United States and Switzerland, each were given seats on the new executive during elections.

Is Good Mother And Flier, Too

VANCOUVER (CP)—A dark-haired woman at the airport here has made herself two careers—that of being a good mother and a good flier.

She is Mrs. Rolie Barrett, the only woman flying instructor at the field, and mother of a six-year-old son.

She learned to fly in 1935 and for a number of years was a member of the "Flying Seven," a group of women pilots well known before the war.

During the war she devoted her time to her young son, but when civilian flying was resumed, Mrs. Barrett embarked on a serious flying career. A year ago she became instructor for the Aero Club of British Columbia.

Island Group To Attend Tax Meet

The Vancouver Island Ratepayers' Association will be represented at a meeting to be held in Kamloops Aug. 23 to protest the inequalities of school taxation, according to George Wyndlow, Ladysmith, secretary of the association.

The meeting has been called by the B.C. Federation of Agriculture and the Beef Cattle Growers' Association and will be attended by organizations throughout the province which have previously been protesting the inequalities in school taxation.

A second meeting of the island association itself will be held in Nanaimo Saturday when delegates from ratepayers' groups throughout the island will attend. A delegate to the Kamloops meeting will be chosen.

Vancouver's Parking Metres Criticized

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Traffic and Safety Committee of the B.C. Automobile Association last night criticized Vancouver's parking metres, condemning what it called the "excessive parking fine scale."

A report submitted by R. S. Arnott, chairman, favored a change from automatic to manually operated metres such as were studied in 51 out of 72 United States cities. The report termed the parking violation levy of two dollars "nothing more than a nuisance tax."

Baha'i Conference

Since Aug. 9 the Baha'is of British Columbia have been in conference at Room 205, 1012 Douglas Street. The first days of the conference have been largely spent in the study of the work and constitution of the United Nations organization, running concurrently with the study of the administration of the World Order of Baha'u'llah, the founder of the Baha'i Cause, whose system stresses that the unification of mankind must have a spiritual basis to succeed.

On Sunday Mark Tobey, artist from the United States, gave an interesting address on "The Response to Beauty," showing that the search for beauty must inevitably lead the soul to worship of the Creator.

On Tuesday Miss Charlotte Linfoot of San Francisco, addressed a public meeting at 902 Douglas Street, the subject being "The Social Basis for World Unity," in which she enlarged on the principles of the cause, which included the independent investigation of truth and the oneness of mankind.

Pearl White Story On Capitol Screen

Pearl White, great queen of the early day serials, whose daring feats in the silent day flickers brought the movies into prominence, never visited Hollywood. Hollywood immortalizes her, however, in Paramount's Technicolor story of her life, "The Perils of Pauline."

All of Miss White's famous blood-and-thunder serials, and the few full-length features she made, were made in New York City and its environs, particularly at the old Pathe studios in Fort Lee, N.J. "The Perils of Pauline" opens today at the Capitol Theatre with Betty Hutton and John Lund starred. Miss Hutton, as Pearl, re-enacts many of the hair-raising stunts which made Pearl White a national heroine.

YORK THEATRE

Director Mitchell Leisen searched high and low for the right actress to play the featured role of Belle Ingham in Paramount's "To Each His Own," which is now at the York Theatre with Olivia DeHavilland starred. But it turned out to be a case of not being able to see the trees because of the forest.

After unsuccessfully interviewing numerous top players concerning the part, that of a friendly, talkative mother of three, Leisen drafted Alma Macrorie for the role, despite the fact that she had never acted in her life.

OAK BAY THEATRE

The Irish did something the Germans never could accomplish—invasion of England.

In the autumn of 1946, 65 members of the famed Dublin Abbey Theatre crossed the channel to appear in the Carol Reed production of "Odd Man Out," a Universal International release now at the Oak Bay Theatre.

The Irish actors handle almost every role excepting the star parts, which are played by James Mason and Robert Newton. Kathleen Ryan, 24-year-old Belfast beauty, is cast as the feminine lead opposite Mason.

Cooper, Like Others Finding Production Much Too Expensive

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD AP) — Gary Cooper, whose career as extra and star has spanned a large part of Hollywood history, thinks some changes are needed in making pictures in this town.

The tall and taciturn Montanan dipped his toe into independent production with "Along Came Jones" and would like to try again. But the meteoric rise of production costs has discouraged him, as it has many others.

"What we need are fresh, bright stories. Instead of spending all the money on expensive production, the actors, story and a bright script should be enough."

Cooper has touched upon a matter which worries many people. There was a time when movie stars would lavish their money on splendidous and foolish luxuries. Today most of them can't afford it. But the studios have taken over. They have been squealing about costs, but what does one see? Big, expensive sets crowded with extras. Reshooting and reshooting of scenes which often are cut from the picture.

And multi-million-dollar budgets.

"But," you complain, "who cares how they toss their money around? They're making lots of it."

True, but unless you consider movie theatres merely a solution to your housing problem, you should care. Because when Hollywood starts thinking the way to make movies is to throw together a bunch of expensive scenes, then you'll be seeing a lot of turkeys on your neighborhood screen.

You can forgive a modestly-budgeted film for some of its failings. But if a picture comes along with big stars, expensive talent behind the camera, huge sets, and still turns out bad—well, there's no bore like a big bore.

Take some of the hits of the last year—"The Killers," "Boomerang," "Miracle on 34th Street," "Margie," "Cynthia," "Dear Ruth." None had a budget which would alarm a studio auditor. All were based on good writing, together with smart directing and acting.

Then take some of the big flops of the last year. Or maybe you'd rather not.

ROYAL THEATRE

Sliding walls made possible one of the most unusual "pan shots" ever filmed in Hollywood. The shot was worked out by Director Clarence Brown for "The Yearling," M-G-M's technicolor filmization of the widely-read Pulitzer prize novel, which is now showing at the Royal Theatre. The unusual scene carries the camera through the flames of an open fire, across a dining-room, through a narrow doorway, down a hallway into a tiny bedroom, and through an open window to a night-bird sitting in a tree.

ATLAS THEATRE

More movie "firsts" were chalked up during filming of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Gallant Bess," says Producer Harry Rapf, than in any other film he was associated with in his long career in picture business.

Picture was first Cinecolor feature-length production attempted by a major studio; first in which cast and crew were flown to location sites by airplane; first M-G-M picture wherein more than 75 per cent of all scenes were filmed outdoors, and the first talking picture in which more than half the footage was shot with a silent camera!

The new picture is currently at the Atlas Theatre.

Canada Enjoying Record Postwar Boom In Trading, Bureau Reveals

OTTAWA (CP) — After a rapid reconversion to peacetime trade, Canada is currently enjoying a postwar trading boom that has seen all records for peacetime-trade fall by the wayside, and the all-time high set in 1944 is being seriously threatened.

A Dominion Bureau of Statistics report revealed Thursday that Canada's external trade during the first six months of 1947 was valued at $2,602,000,000, a record for any similar peacetime period. This figure — 33 per cent higher than in the similar period last year — is only $31,200,000 under the wartime high of $2,633,200,000 for the first half of 1946.

Both imports and exports reflected the increased flow of trade, total value of merchandise exported during the six-month period, being $1,328,500,000 compared with $1,062,800,000 last year. Meanwhile foreign commodities re-exported jumped from $11,100,000 last year to $16,800,000.

Commodity imports in the first half of the year totaled $1,256,700,000, a 42.8-per-cent gain over last year's corresponding total of $879,900,000.

Meanwhile the Bureau reported that June trade continued at the high level of previous months. Aggregate value of trade during the month was $507,400,000, slightly below the monthly peacetime peak of $511,500,000 set in May, but well ahead of the $326,400,000 recorded in June, 1946.

Value of all imports during the month was $231,100,000 as against $240,300,000 in May and $157,700,000 in June last year.

Imports from Canada's two biggest producers—Great Britain and the United States—showed opposite trends, those from the United States rising, while those from Great Britain slumped considerably.

During the first six months this year, imports from the United States totalled $980,939,000 compared with $618,359,000 in the same period of 1946, while in June the value was $174,669,000 compared with $106,597,000 a year ago.

4th Polio Case Confirmed Here

Victoria's fourth case of poliomyelitis was confirmed today, Dr. J. H. Preston, assistant medical health officer, stated today. The latest victim is a three-year-old boy, and his case is not serious, Dr. Preston said.

The first three cases are still confined to hospital and are progressing satisfactorily, he said. The Duncan case, hospitalized at Royal Jubilee Hospital, is still more seriously ill than any of the four Victoria patients but he, too, is progressing satisfactorily.

Dr. Preston warned parents to guard against the fatigue factor with children particularly while the polio danger remains. It is the overtired child who is most subject to the infection.

He advised that if a child appears upset or ill it be kept quiet indoors for at least a full day after the upset had apparently cleared up.

Straith, M.L.A., club director and Reg Patterson, business manager of the Athletics. In addition Blankenship received gifts from admiring fans, merchandise and scripts from local business firms. In a few words Blankenship expressed his appreciation of the gifts and the honor paid him.

Chandler Rejects Cuban Tour Plans

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler has issued a directive forbidding major leaguers from playing as members of Cuban winter league teams, and Cleveland's Bobby Feller, whose plans for a barnstorming tour provoked the ruling, is asking "how come?"

Feller announced earlier he would pitch five games for a Cuban league team between Oct. 21 and Nov. 8.

"Players are permitted to conduct barnstorming tours in other places outside the United States," said the Cleveland ace upon his arrival here last night, adding, "why should Cuba be an exception?"

"I plan to get in touch with the commissioner at an early date. I am sure everything will be ironed out satisfactorily and I can go ahead with the tour as planned."

Esquimalt Meat Win Softball Championship

Esquimalt Meat Market won the city senior A softball championship and the right to meet Ladysmith in the island finals last night by handing Brentwood Aces an 11-to-6 lacing in the fourth game of the best-of-five series. Esquimalt won the opener 9 to 2, the second 11 to 3, and dropped the third 6 to 2.

The brand of ball turned in by the clubs in the final game of the series was for from championship calibre, Esquimalt being charged with eight errors and the Aces six. Only one of the winners' runs was earned while Aces had three of the untainted variety.

George Kinch, ace of the league winners staff, hurried the win to account for all three play-off victories for his club. John Furnston went the route for Brentwood giving up nine hits.

Winners scored six runs in a big third inning, three in the fifth and singletons in the sixth and seventh. Aces tallied two in the fourth and sixth frames, one in the fifth and a lone marker in the last of the ninth.

Highlight of the contest was the tremendous home run smash by Furnston into right field. The ball lit on the fly in the lower diamond for what is definitely the longest home run of this season and probably for a few seasons back.

Esquimalt will open their best-of-seven series against Ladysmith at the up-island centre Sunday afternoon with the first game scheduled tentatively at 2.30 and the second game at 6.30.

Third and fourth games are slated for Victoria the following Sunday with the final three, if necessary to alternate between the two cities.

WIN SENIOR B CROWN
Army and Navy Vets senior B squad annexed city honors in that division by taking a 4 to 2 decision from Naval Stores for their second straight victory.

Vets were forced to come from behind for last night's victory, overcoming a 2 to 1 lead with three runs in the sixth inning. Jack Elliott allowed the losers four hits in registering the win.

Vets of France won by default from Langford in a juvenile boys' playoff. Second game is set for Sunday at 12.30 at Central Park.

Feather Golf Balls Dating Back To 1740 On Show Here

Although the history of golf is somewhat obscure prior to the time it was introduced into England from Holland in 1605 during the reign of James I, historians believe it appeared first as a definite game in the 14th and 15th centuries.

The first balls to appear in England at that time were quite the things in comparison to the precision manufactured pellets in use today. Some of these old balls, dating back to 1740, which were called "feather balls" are on display at the Colwood Park Museum together with signed statements as to their authenticity and playing qualities.

When James VI objected to the large quantities of gold and silver leaving England for such balls he granted a patent of 21 years to William Berwick to produce them.

The method of manufacture consisted of three pieces of board's hide, cut to the desired pattern, being sewn together on the inside, leaving a small hole for the insertion of the feathers.

The feathers used were mostly chicken feathers, chopped up finely and pushed through the eyelet of the outer covering by means of an instrument called a stilt. These were thoroughly packed into the ball, which was then soaked for a period of time. Following this the small aperture was sewn up, the ball hammered into shape and left to dry.

Hudson's Bay Annex Women's Senior A Softball Crown

Smashing out a 13-to-3 victory in the fourth game of the best-of-five series, Hudson's Bay senior A women's softball squad last night captured the city title from Wally Yeaman's Eaglettes by the margin of three games to one.

For six innings the game was a pitchers' battle between Bay's Flo Kennedy and Eaglettes' Helen Pettigrew with Kennedy enjoying a 5-to-3 lead, mainly due to some poor fielding on the part of the losers. Then in the seventh frame winners broke out in a scoring rampage, tallying eight times.

Eaglettes scored a single run in the second and two in the sixth while Bays scored two runs in the second and three in the fifth.

SENIOR B CHAMPS

Don Harveys captured the city senior B women's crown, taking the fifth and deciding game of the best-of-five affair last night by the one-sided count of 16 to 3.

Showing power at the plate, the winners scored in every inning but the seventh while holding losers to a single run in the first, third and fifth.

Leonard Uncorks 68 For Second In Portland Tourney

PORTLAND, Ore. (CP) — Slashing six strokes off par with a 66, rugged little Johnny Palmer of Badin, N.C., a former army flier, snatched the lead Thursday in the first round of the 72-hole $10,000 Portland open golf tournament from Stan Leonard of Vancouver, who carded a 35-33-68 earlier in the day.

Putting with a deadly eye and hitting practically every shot in flawless fashion, Palmer fashioned a 32 for the first nine and carried on over the back stretch for a 34. Par for the round, 6,522-yard Portland Country Club course is 35-37-72.

Playing in warm, sunny weather and practically unhampered by the galleries who had flocked to the banner of the tournament favorite and title defender, Ben Hogan, Leonard, known as a sound player, put together nines of 35-33 against the par 35-37-72. He had nine straight pars on the outgoing trip; three one-putt greens and only one long putt, a 15-footer on the 13th.

Favorite Ben Hogan, from Hershey, Pa., who holds the P.G.A. record of 261 in 72 holes over a par 72 course—a mark he set here two years ago—had a 69.

Blankenship Breaks 'Special Night' Jinx

Pitcher Joe Blankenship is one ball player who can look back in years to come and remember one special night that didn't backfire. So often when hometown fans and a club honor a particular player, the opposing club fails to co-operate by winning. Last night Blankenship came up with a six-hit performance while teammates Jack Harshman and Leo Righetti provided the batting punch with timely home runs to give Victoria Athletics a 7-to-4 victory over Salem.

Just to make it a perfect evening all-around 3,606 paid their way through the gate to boost the season's attendance to 102,868 and better last year's mark by 368. The A's still have 17 home games remaining so the final figures should be close to 130,000.

Manager Jack Wilson of Salem who several times has openly stated his dislike of the Victoria ball park, owing to the short centre-field fence, no doubt likes it even less today. However, he hasn't too much of a squawk as a pair of home runs by Bob Moore and Eddie Barr gave his club a 2 to 0 lead before the fence busting A's decided to cut loose with a little heavy hitting of their own.

In the last of the fourth with Johnny Hooper and Vic Mastro aboard by virtue of singles, Jack Harshman lofted one of Lefty Mossor's slants high over the centre-field fence to move the A's ahead. It was Harshman's 35th circuit smash of the season and moved him within five of the league record.

TIED IN SEVENTH

Blankenship contributed to his own cause in the fifth when he cracked a tremendous triple to left field and scored on Pat Patterson's outfield fly. A second home run by Moore and Bill Beard's timely single allowed Salem to tie up in the top of the seventh.

Leo Righetti, coming through in the pinch for the second night in succession, got the range of the centre-field fence in the seventh to put the A's ahead 5 to 4 and they made victory secure in the eighth when Mastro singled, Harshman walked and Jensen drove them home with a line single to centre that Barr let roll through him for an extra base.

Fielding highlights of the evening were provided by the Victoria players. In the seventh Harshman made a beautiful play on Mossor's bunt to cut off a run at the plate and prevent Salem from taking the lead, while in the next inning shortstop Johnny Cavalli went far to his right to make a one-handed spear of Barr's low smash for the third out with runners aboard.

Last night's win left the A's four and one-half games out of first place and only two back of third-place Salem. Dick Mitchell will go after his seventh straight win for Victoria tonight with Hunk Anderson to work for Salem.

BREMERTON BEATEN

Wenatchee's Chiefs may be going nowhere in particular in the league race but the defending titlists certainly aren't helping the Bremerton Bluejackets in their bid for the circuit's pennant.

The eighth-place nine knocked off the Jackets three out of four in a recent series. Last night they pushed over three runs in the seventh inning and five in the ninth to take a 9 to 5 win over the wet sounders, which, combined with Spokane's split at Vancouver, lowered Bremerton back into a first-place tie.

Spokane moved into a temporary lead with a 6 to 3 first game win over the Canadians but settled back into the deadlock with a 3 to 2 loss in the second. Tacoma walloped Yakima 10 to 4 in the night's other session.

Spokane cut loose with a two-run burst in the fourth inning to tie up their first game at Van-

MADE THREE A DAY

SEATTLE (AP)—Jockey Merlin Voltzke, top rider of the 1947 Longacres season, rode three winners on Thursday's eight-race twilight program, including Expend in the feature race.

Expend paid $7.30, $4.20 and $3.10 on a $2 mutuels ticket. The winning time for the mile and one-sixteenth was 1.45.35.

Topzida finished second to pay $5.30 and $4.40. Stage Actor paid $4.80 to show.

couver, then put it away with a three-run spurge in the next frame. Al Phillips' homer and Bob Morgan's triple featured the rallies.

The Indians were punchless in the second game, however, with Bob Hall limiting them to six hits. Each of their allies were forced in, one in the fourth coming on four walks and their ninth inning counter coming across when Herb Gorman was hit by a pitched ball.

Lombardi Brilliant In Brooklyn Victory

Brooklyn appears to have regained its balance after a tipsy two-week interlude by cooling off the steaming Boston Braves while the St. Louis Cards' headlong rush has been slowed down.

The Brooks have a 4½-game lead today and there is a better than fair chance that they will increase their advantage before the start of their vital series with the Cards Monday night at Ebbets Field.

Vic Lombardi's performance in shutting out Boston yesterday 1 to 0 must have been encouraging to manager Burt Shotton, for the little lefthander has been a major disappointment this season. Lombardi allowed only four singles in spinning his seventh victory.

St. Louis ran into its old south-paw trouble, bowing to left-handed Fritz Ostermüller at Pittsburgh, 5 to 3, although they banged out 10 hits. Ralph Kiner, the Braves' slugging outfielder, hit his 38th home run in the first inning.

GIANTS DROP BACK

Once again Philadelphia Phils dropped the Giants further out of the race with a 6-to-5 decision, their third straight over New York. Don Padgett's two-run single and an error by Joe Lafata gave the Phils the three decisive runs in the seventh.

Allie Reynolds became the American League's first 15-game winner when he hurled New York Yankees to an 8-to-5 edge over Philadelphia's Canadian-born star, Phil Marchiondo, although neither starter finished.

Another small crowd, only 2,412 paid, turned out to see St. Louis Browns succumb to Detroit 7 to 0 under the spell of

Horsemen Demand Hastings Track Be Lengthened

VANCOUVER (CP)—The B.C. Horsemen's Association Thursday night passed a resolution stating that they would apply to have next year's Hastings Park racing dates changed to Lansdown if the small, half-mile oval was not lengthened into a six-furlong track.

The horsemen, who also asked that the track be resurfaced with a two-inch layer of sand, made the decision at a meeting called to discuss the problem of a large number of horses breaking down on the short turns.

Wednesday, three horses were hurt, and one of them, Spurious, was shipped to Portland for retirement with all the ligaments in its right foreleg torn. Hi Duke, a rank favorite, suffered a shoulder injury and Kinsal severed an artery. Both were described as "not seriously hurt."

OLYMPIC CITY

HELSINKI (Reuter) — Helsinki, which is to hold the Olympic Games in 1952, today approved a five-year building plan for the games.

It will be called "Olympic City" and two new hotels, several blocks of flats and pleasure grounds will be built for the competitors and the spectators.

Canadian Trio Reach National Golf Semis

ROYAL QUEBEC GOLF CLUB, Boischatel, Que. (CP) — Guy Rolland, the amiable French-Canadian golfer from Montreal, took over the giant-killing job today in the Canadian amateur golf championship in a bid to turn back the last American threat and put himself into an all-Canadian final.

It promised to be no easy task for Rolland. He was drawn against Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, top-ranking American amateur, while he kept an eye on the upper bracket, where defending champion Henry Martell of Edmonton and Bill Ezinicki of Toronto fought out other half of the semifinal.

Rolland today had his chance not only to keep the title north of the border, but to bring it to the heart of French Canada. He knows the Royal Quebec course well. It was here that he won the Quebec amateur title last year, only to lose it last month at Royal Montreal.

In yesterday's play, Stranahan had approximate medal scores for his first nines of 33 and 34, against par 35. But on the only second nine that Stranahan was called upon to finish, he was three over par.

Like Rolland, Martell is another veteran of Canadian amateur tournament play. Last year at Edmonton he won his first Dominion championship after knocking for years at the door. At the previous tournament in 1939 before the war broke out, Martell was runner-up to Ken Black of Vancouver. And it was Black who lost to Martell last year 6 and 5.

Rolland had no easy rounds yesterday. In the morning he finished strongly on the second nine to defeat another tournament veteran, Phil Farley of Toronto, 3 and 2, and in the afternoon was fought to a standstill by Allan Boes of Winnipeg, finishing at the 18th with a 1 up advantage.

GREAT COMEBACK

Stranahan, comfortably ahead with a six-hole lead over Mike Torza of Hartford, Conn., in the early round, just about lost his aplomb when Torza rallied on the last nine and took five holes in a row. That ended Torza's bid and the match ended on the 18th with Stranahan still 1 up. In the afternoon Stranahan defeated Gil Walker of London, Ont., 4 and 3.

Rod Phelan, low-scoring champion of Toronto, was on the verge of a real upset in the morning round against Martell. Phelan, making mistakes of his own, but capitalizing on those of Martell, whose driving was erratic, carried the champion to an extra hole. Martell won there with two beautiful shots that took him five feet from the pin. He was conceded a birdie three when Phelan got into trouble with his second, below and to the right of the green, and then pitched clear over it.

Martell took on Jack Nash of London, Ont., in the afternoon, winning 3 and 2 without losing a hole on the back nine.

Ezinicki's first victim yesterday was Mike Darling, junior player from Montreal, 3 and 2. He was given a rugged battle in the afternoon by Joe Stoddard of Hamilton. Ezinicki finally won out by taking the 16th with a birdie three and the 17th with a par four, to win 2 and 1.

Doubles Today May Determine Davis Cup Tennis

MONTREAL (CP)—Australia and Czechoslovakia prepared to battle it out in the doubles today in their Davis Cup interzone final and observers agreed that the winner of the twosome contest would be the country to advance into the challenge round against the United States.

The two nations split the opening day singles yesterday and it is regarded as likely that they'll share the two singles matches tomorrow. The crucial encounter therefore is felt to be the doubles match involving Jack Bromwich and Colin Long for Australia and Jaroslav Drobny and Vladimir Cernik for Czechoslovakia.

In the first day singles Bromwich overwhelmed Cernik 6-1, 6-1, while Drobny disposed of Dinny Pails, the Aussie No. 1 man, 6-3, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.

The Czech took only one of Bromwich's services in the three sets, while Bromwich broke through his opponents serve on 10 of 12 occasions.

PAIS SHOWS COURAGE

Drobny showed in his match with Pails why he is regarded by many observers as the No. 2 man in the world, ranking only behind the star of the U.S. net squad—Jack Kramer. Even the loss of the third set didn't tarnish his reputation since he made only a half-hearted attempt to take the set after Pails had run up a 4-1 lead and was obviously conserving his energy for the fourth set.

Although Pails was outclassed he put up a game display. Whereas Drobny broke through the Aussie's service four times, to three service breaks for Pails against Drobny, Pails blasted home 17 service aces while Drobny ran up 10.

Lupien's Hitting Spree Wins Ball Game For Hollywood

Hollywood's most valuable player was most valuable last night.

That, of course, would be Tony Lupien. All he did was whack two homers and a double, driving in all his team's runs as the Stars beat the Los Angeles Angels, 4 to 2.

They were versatile Tony's 17th and 18th round trippers and considerably boosted his chances of being named the league's most valuable at season's end.

The win boosted the Stars from seventh to sixth place as Sacramento skidded into a last place tie with San Diego by losing to Seattle, 5 to 2. San Diego slapped Portland down, 9 to 1, and San Francisco defeated Oakland, 8 to 5.

San Francisco's victory cut a game off the Angels' lead, which still was a healthy 6½ games. The Seals came from behind to score three runs in the eighth and two in the ninth on Joe Brovia's homer.

Garth Mann pitched the Seattle Rainiers to a 5 to 2 victory over his former Sacramento teammates. Charley Ripple, former Rainier, was the victim of a four-run assault in the fifth that sewed it up for Seattle.

Victorians Buy Less Butter Than In Days Of Rationing

While the price of butter continued its upward march, manager of a large downtown retail store and spokesman for a butter distributor said that since butter took its initial jump in price in May, sales have dropped.

The distributor said the present two-cent increase on the whole sale price of butter announced yesterday is the result of heavy butter buying in the east, definitely not in the west.

Some butter went on sale in retail stores today at 61 cents a pound with other brands, expected to rise from 58 to 60 or 61 cents a pound as soon as present stocks are exhausted.

Butter was selling generally at prices ranging from 44 to 46 cents a pound before it took a 10 per cent jump in May. A veritable butter famine in Victoria preceded the advance in price.

"Butter sales are definitely down," the retailer said. "It hardly seems creditable when people complained that half a pound a week allowed on the butter ration was not sufficient. Evidently they are not even using a half pound of butter now, as they did when it was rationed."

"As soon as butter went up the sales went down, and that drop has been maintained."

The spokesman for a butter distributor told a similar story. "During the shortage of butter people often went without and I guess they are continuing to do so," he said. "Sales of butter have dropped ever since the price went up."

"There is apparently a big demand for butter in the east, but definitely not here," he said when asked if butter sales had dropped, why did the price advance.

His firm was given no reason for the advance by the creameries who supply them, he said, adding that they were advised Thursday that the wholesale price, which had been 55½ cents a pound, would now be 57½ cents a pound.

Spokesman for one creamery said that their butter, both Fraser Valley and Alberta varieties, went up to 61 cents a pound retail.

"There is usually a two to three-cent spread between the wholesale and retail price," he said.

Herring Season Will Be Opened Aug. 31

Packers look for record catches of herring when the season opens Aug. 31, for district No. 3, which includes all waters south of Cape Caution.

Fifty seiners are expected to fish for herring off the east and west coasts of Vancouver Island. Last year the herring catches in the Gulf of Georgia were extremely good.

The provincial cabinet meeting was not held today in order to allow members to attend the funeral in Vancouver this afternoon of Vancouver's Senator, mayor, G. G. McGeer. Next regular meeting of the cabinet will be held at the Legislative Buildings Tuesday.

Meatless Days No Hardship Says Cafe Proprietor

Meat on the menu today may prove a pleasant experience to cafe patrons accustomed to meatless Tuesdays and Fridays, but according to three prominent city restaurant proprietors, it will make little difference to them.

"The two meatless days were never a hardship and we did not run into any complaints from tourists," commented Paul Arsen of the Royal Dominion Dining-room and Sussex Cafe.

According to Tom Kelway of the Blackhorse Inn, who is president of the Victoria Branch of the Canadian Restaurant Association, declaring two meatless days was a good thing at the time, because of the shortage of meat.

"It doesn't make much difference, but the removal of the meatless day rules comes at the right time," he said, as he referred to the fact that there was more beef on the market now.

O. B. Taylor of Terry's said the meatless days were a good thing and did no harm. He expressed the opinion that there were no great quantities of meat anywhere.

"Tourists like our B.C. fish if it is served properly," he said.

Many people who knew the value of her years of unostentatious work in the interests of the church attended the funeral service for Mrs. Elizabeth Ann (Pulton) Woodruff, 84, at St. John's Church yesterday afternoon, Ven. Archdeacon Neville Blunt officiating.

A native of St. Andrew's, Man., Mrs. Woodruff had been a resident of Victoria for 60 years and was a past president of the Ladies' Guild of St. John's Church. The floral tributes included many from various church organizations.

The pallbearers were: C. R. Walker, Wallace Macintosh, Victor McN. Rolfe, J. G. Saul, S. C. Hawken and J. S. Meiss. Funeral arrangements were in the hands of Hayward's Ltd., with interment at Royal Oak.

RALPH WHALEY
... he's too good

Ralph Whaley of Seattle is still champion of the Seniors' Northwest Golf Association. At the Colwood Club today the Sound City veteran won his fourth successive title by defeating Harry Andrews of Tacoma 4 and 3 over 18 holes. After winning the first four holes and enjoying a 4-up margin at the turn, Whaley closed out the match on the 15th green.

Putting together three par fours and sinking a 20-foot putt on the fourth for a birdie two, Whaley took early command of the final. When Andrews put his second shot into the trap, Whaley won the eighth with a par four to be 5 up. Whaley caught a trap on the 9th while Andrews got his par 4 to leave the former 4 up at the halfway point. Whaley had a par 35 for the first nine while Andrews took a 40.

When Whaley put his tee shot out of bounds on the 10th Andrews won back another hole, but missed a putt on the 11th to go 4 down again. After halving the 12th Andrews took the 13th with a par four as Whaley put his tee shot into the rough and was over the green with his second. The 14th was halved and the match ended on the short 15th when Andrews was in a trap off the tee while Whaley was on the green and down in two putts for his par three.

Over 300 members of the Victoria Manitoba Association attended a basket picnic Wednesday in Beacon Hill Park. J. Prudhomme, association president, acted as master of ceremonies.

Uniformity of education across the Dominion will be one of the chief topics discussed in Quebec when the nine provincial education ministers meet Sept. 11, 12 and 13, according to B.C.'s Education Minister G. M. Weir. "If we could get a single Canadian history acceptable to all parts of the country, it would be a great step forward in the matter of education," the minister said.

A $35 fine, or in default five days in jail, was imposed against Harry Bellingham, Sidney, by J. R. Saunders, J.P., in Saanich police court Thursday afternoon when he pleaded guilty to dangerous driving last Wednesday on Glanford Avenue at Quadra Street. Constable David Shepherd told the court Bellingham's car went off the road and was considerably damaged before it came to a stop in a plowed field.

The three who escaped from the burning launch near the entrance to Todd Inlet, Brentwood Bay, Monday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Harry N. Hoyle and their four-year-old son, Michael, recently arrived from England. They were renting the boat and home of Maj. W. Wood while he is away. The boat was completely destroyed by the flames. Mrs. Hoyle is a sister of Harry Portingale, 3805 Carey Road, Mr. Hoyle is an R.A.F. veteran.

Thieves Engineer Novel, Petty Theft

By using a false claim that sent the clerk into the rear of the shop and left the front clear for their purposes, two young men escaped with four cameo rings, valued at $5.60 each from a Government Street store Thursday.

Detective Angus Munro, attending following the telephone report of the robbery, learned that around 1 the two men went into the shop and tried to return a cameo ring they claimed to have bought the previous day and receive the money for it.

The store attendant, however, knew there were no rings sold on Wednesday and in addition to that the claimants did not have a receipt to show for the purchase. She went to the rear of the store to check with other attendants of the shop. This left the front of the store clear. When the clerk returned the men were gone and she discovered four cameo rings missing from the case where rings were kept.

C. F. Dawson, district resident architect for B.C. and Yukon, Department of Public Works of Canada, left by plane today for Whitehorse and Dawson, to make inspections of federal government public buildings and offices. Mr. Dawson will be back in his offices Aug. 21.

The fire, which started on MacKenzie Mountain and headed northeastward after destroying more than half the village, had turned back on its track. Sweeping again through the old burn. Trucks on highway work throughout the island were standing by to assist in evacuations or movements of firefighting equipment that might become necessary.

Though they had left their anchorage in Bay St. Lawrence, the R.C.M.P. cutter French and the patrol vessel Brule were still ready to go to the aid of the 150 villagers that dwell along its shores. The two craft were anchored off Cheticamp.

The situation in the fire area remained confused. Bay St. Lawrence and Aspy Bay settlements were thought to be out of danger, temporarily at least.

Meanwhile, near Monastery in Nova Scotia's mainland county of Antigonish, families were evacuating their homes as a nine-day-old blaze found new life in spruce and hemlock forests. The evacuees took refuge in the St. Augustine Monastery in the village.

Victoria Sikhs' Ceremony Marks Dominion Status

A three-day celebration has been proclaimed for Sikhs of British Columbia to mark the newly-acquired dominion status of India and Pakistan. In Victoria, Sikhs from all parts of Vancouver Island gathered at the Sikh Temple on Topaz Avenue.

The celebration began early this morning inside the temple with prayers and readings from the Sikh bible. At 10, a party of turbaned and bearded commiteemen came forth from the temple wearing yellow belts and large swords. They carried two of the new national flags.

They paraded to a flag pole on the left side of the temple's main gate. There the flag was slowly raised.

Once the flag reached the top of the pole, a priest began to chant in the native tongue. A group of small Sikh boys shouted hooray and shot off some fireworks. They said they could not understand what their elders were chanting.

The party then proceeded to the second gate where the ceremony was repeated. A 20-piece band, under the direction of Harry Bigsby then struck up "O Canada," followed by a group of marches.

Baktour Singh stepped before a microphone and told the 200 people, who had by this time gathered, they would hear the voice of His Excellency M. Asaf Ali, India's ambassador to the United States.

The ambassador's voice came from a record which was especially made at the United Nations headquarters for use at the ceremony.

The ambassador said that independence had been gained without bloodshed. He praised the work of India's "younger intellectuals." He said India must now work toward the objective which was Abraham Lincoln's—"Government of the people, for the people, by the people."

Baktour Singh addressed the crowd. He pointed to one of the new flags and said, in native tongue, that the flag's three colors represented Hindu, Mohammedan and Sikh faiths. He said that while these groups were now antagonistic, unity would result from education.

Fire Dooms Remainder Of Homes In Cape Breton Fishing Hamlet

HALIFAX (CP)—Four homes in the fire-swept north Cape Breton village of Pleasant Bay were burned today and Rev. Pat Leblanc, Roman Catholic parish priest at Cheticamp, 20 miles to the south, said the fishing hamlet was "doomed" by a forest fire moving down Mackenzie Mountain.

Forecasts of showers in all fire areas in Nova Scotia, however, brought some hope to firefighters and the majority of the 350 residents of Pleasant Bay who now are being sheltered in Cheticamp after being evacuated from the village Monday when 28 of the 40 buildings burned.

The fire, which started on MacKenzie Mountain and headed northeastward after destroying more than half the village, had turned back on its track. Sweeping again through the old burn. Trucks on highway work throughout the island were standing by to assist in evacuations or movements of firefighting equipment that might become necessary.

Warning Issued

Unsuspecting Veterans

VANCOUVER (CP)—A warning to ex-servicemen to be on the lookout for so-called "professional veterans," who claim to have an inside track to obtain benefits has been issued by W. G. H. Roaf, district administrator of the Department of Veterans' Affairs here.

"Several times in the past few weeks this practice had been brought to my attention, Mr. Roaf said. "Veterans have been brought to my office by persons who tell them that because we are old personal friends we will fix things up."

Mr. Roaf assured veterans any legitimate assistance toward rehabilitation to which they are entitled under legislation is willingly forthcoming from D.V.A.

The DOCTOR Says:

DO INOCULATIONS PREVENT SCARLET FEVER?

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

Immunization injections have been used by nursing schools for some time in an attempt to protect their nursing students from scarlet fever. Doubt is now cast on the usefulness of this method because of undesirable reactions and relative ineffectiveness.

Ramona L. Todd, M.D., studied a group of University of Minnesota nurses who received injections to immunize them against scarlet fever. She found severe generalized reactions occurring in 90 out of 142 students, resulting in loss of school time, and, in addition, there was no proof that the method had been effective as judged by special skin tests.

In recent years scarlet fever has become a milder disease, although no one can say whether this is a temporary or permanent change. When scarlet fever immunization was first used, the infection was severe and present-day methods of treatment had not been developed. Because student nurses were intimately exposed to the infection, school authorities thought that they should have the added protection of immunization injections. Scarlet fever is a streptococcal throat infection complicated by skin rash. Immunization is effective only against the rash.

Five injections are necessary to complete the course of inoculations. The 90 Minnesota students who reported reactions to one or more of their inoculations lost a total of 110 school days, ranging from one-half to six days each. The reaction, consisting mainly of nausea, fever, general aching pains and headache, did not leave any permanent effects.

20 PER CENT UNAFFECTED

Were the immunizations effective to scarlet fever? Theoretically the Dick skin test for susceptibility to scarlet fever? Theoretically if a person is immune, this test should be negative, but about one out of every five individuals who received the scarlet fever inoculations still had positive Dick tests, indicating no immunity, six months to a year later.

Absolute protection against scarlet fever is difficult to obtain even under ideal conditions. It is helpful to isolate patients with streptococcal throat infections. The spread of the disease through raw milk can be stopped by proper pasteurization, and the course of the illness can be shortened by the use of sulfa drugs and penicillin.

EGGS OF SEA BIRDS ARE SHAPED LIKE PEARLS

Think of an egg with the shape of a pearl! That is the kind which is laid by a sea bird known as the "guillemot"—(pronounced "GILL-eh-mot").

Guillemots spend their time in northern parts of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. They seldom visit dry land except during the breeding season. Even in the breeding season they are close to the water, since they hatch their eggs on cliffs along the coasts.

Guillemots choose rocky ledges on the cliffs. Such a ledge may be only a foot wide, and the height above the water may be 200 or 300 feet.

Each female bird lays a single egg, then starts to hatch it with the help of her mate. Without being placed in a nest of any kind, the egg simply lies on the ledge of rock.

These birds have colonies with hundreds of members, sometimes thousands. A cliff with several ledges on its face can take care of a vast number.

We may wonder why the eggs are of pear shape. There is a good reason. An egg like that of a hen would roll off a ledge easily when jarred by a parent bird or when blown by a strong wind. There are times when both the parents go out to look for food, leaving the egg in the open. At such a moment a strong wind may blow the egg, but it tends to roll around and around instead of going off the ledge.

When a guillemot warms the egg, it sits or stands almost erect, with its head high above the ledge. In this position it could hardly cover more than one egg.

Most guillemots are from 14 to 18 inches long. Their eggs are large, each one being about three inches from end to end.

The eggs have many colors. Sometimes they are mainly green, with spots and streaks of brown or black. In other cases the main color is red, pink, gray or white. One man with a collection of 500 of the eggs declared: "No two of these eggs are exactly alike in coloring."

Because the eggs differ in coloring, the parents can locate their own after they go out on a trip to obtain fish or sand-eels for food.

Closely related to guillemots are smaller birds known as "sea pigeons" or "black guillemots." In this group the parents hatch two eggs at a time instead of one.

To File $5,000,000 Suit For Loss Of Ship Diamond Knot

SEATTLE (AP)—An attorney for the Alaska Steamship Company said Thursday a $5,000,000 Admiralty suit would be filed for the loss of the freighter Diamond Knot and its rich Alaska canned salmon cargo in a Strait of Juan de Fuca collision early Wednesday.

Claude E. Wakefield of the legal firm representing the Alaska Company said the suit under preparation would ask $1,000,000 for loss of the 5,525-ton ship and $4,000,000 for the lost cargo.

The Diamond Knot, inbound from Alaska, was in collision with the 10,681-ton Fenn Victory, operated by the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company. The Fenn Victory was brought back to Seattle for hull repairs which company officials estimated would run around $13,000.

Wakefield said the legal suit, to be filed in federal court, would allege "excessive speed in the fog" as a "principal fault" of the Fenn Victory.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Coast Guard questioned Fenn Victory crew members in its investigation of the collision.

Mutual Defence Plan Being Written At American Conference

PETROPOLIS, Brazil (AP)

Foreign ministers of 20 American countries assembled today to write a historic treaty of mutual defence against aggression.

A preparatory commission representing all 20 countries planned a morning preliminary meeting to agree on a conference president and create five committees. Canada is not attending the conference.

The president was expected to be tall, scholarly Raul Fernandes, 69-year-old Brazilian foreign minister, delegate to the 1919 Paris peace conference and to the League of Nations.

The conference, long delayed by North American-Argentine differences, was scheduled to start in the afternoon. On the program were an opening speech by President Eurico Gaspar Dutra of Brazil, a response for the delegates by Foreign Minister Jaime Torres Bodet of Mexico and an address by Secretary-General Trygve Lie of the United Nations.

The seat of the meeting was the block-long former grill room of Brazil's $15,000,000 Quitandinha Hotel, mountain resort outside this town 45 miles north of Rio de Janeiro.

The proposed treaty would provide for the first time for joint armed action to keep the peace in the western hemisphere. Gaspar Dutra has called it "America's example to the world."

The treaty is being considered in line with a recommendation in the 20-power act of Chapultepec concluded at Mexico City March 3, 1945, as a wartime defence measure.

Prices Of Necessities

About Double Since 1939

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1939 dollar is worth only about 50 cents today in buying the ordinary necessities of life, but it buys a lot more in some parts of the United States than in others.

An Associated Press survey of retail prices in 13 leading U.S. cities showed, among other things:

You can eat for less, by and large, in Minneapolis than in most cities.

You pay more for meat in the packing capital of Chicago than elsewhere.

Your meat bill has gone up much more, percentage-wise, than your bread or milk bills. Butter and eggs rate much higher on your budget than they did, comparatively, before the war.

In most items, half or more of the price increase has come in the last year.

London Paper Takes

Garbo At Own Word

LONDON (AP)—London's Daily Express couldn't go all the way, but it did make a concession today to Greta Garbo's wish to be alone.

"This is the smallest type we've got," the mass circulation daily announced, printing a seven-line skeletonized account of her first day's visit in London in tiny agate type.

Not-So-Wise Owl Caught By Fisherman

CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP)

A remarkable fish story, with caged evidence to support it, was circulated today by Joe Denkenberger.

He went angling at midnight, he said, casting his line with jitterbug plug, when suddenly there was a big splash. Seconds later, the pole was almost wrenched from his grip.

Excitedly he reeled in a not-so-wise owl with a 36-inch wingspread flapping frantically on the hook. The bird is now recuperating in a cage.
